Merovingian sucks.

Sorry, I'm half asleep and that's what I accidentally typed.

See... Isn't it really bizar when keys just magically move under your fingers when you roll them over your keyboard?

Also, who's Merovingian?

'the latest'

What version do you deem as 'latest'....

Basically NR is unable to read the Radar from your svrcfg_cnc.ini (i know it says nrconfig.ini, but that is a known bug) go open up your svrcfg_cnc.ini and check what the radar is set to, it must be 0, 1 or 2 otherwise both the FDS and NR will not accept it.

wow thx to NR i only have

```
[Settings]
MapName02=C&C_Complex.mix
MapName03=C&C_Walls.mix
MapName=C&C_Hourglass.mix
MapName00=C&C_Hourglass.mix
MapName01=C&C_Islands.mix
bGameTitle=WitteFucks Server Sucks
MapName04=C&C_Hourglass.mix
MapName05=
MapName06=
TimeLimitMinutes=0

in my svrcfg_cnc.ini

and thats NRs fault?

Your the only person to ever have that problem..

Also i would appreciate it if people wouldnt spam this topic with Crap about BR, etc

Next time anyone posts anything about NR being crap, I'll feel free to say the same about your own first program. Ok?

Grow up. Be nice.

Hey guys give Nightma a break...he's trying to help someone out. The best suggestion was giving they guy the URL to the NR forums.

Yea, thanks blazer.

and MadRockz, i dont see how NR could cause the ini file to lose half of the data, all NR does it uses a kernel32.dll function to read/write from the ini file. And using those paticular functions there is no way to remove the lines from the file, rather it would blank them out.

I doubt this will help but is there anything in your debug.txt file that is dated near the time of the restart?
