I know this is confusing but...I cant make my .pkg files say the .pkg at the end like they should because its set to know its a pkg. i cant change my files to a .mix now because if i try adding .mix to the end of the name instead of pkg (the pkg isnt even there) when i look in the mod section of renegade it just shows my levels name with a .mix .i dont think theres any possible way to fix this.because if i delete my commando , althought it wont auto open commando when i click on a pkg, it will still try to open it. therefore, i cant possible make .mix files.(sry if ur confused which u probably are.)if anyone can help ill b much gratefull,thanx.

Wait a second...I know what you're talking about...It doesn't show the extension because the computer knows what it is...This is a window's option:Open up Windows Explorer, and go to some folder, click on Folder Options in the Tools menu. Click on the View tab and go down to where it says "Hide file extensions for known file types", uncheck that. Now it will show the extensions for all file types. Click ok/applyYour welcome
