Hello. OK. My problem. My computer has been infected by a virus some month(s) ago... After a long time I played Renegade with my sister again (LAN Match) and I have seen something unusual, something that the virus could have made. I think it's like this: After 1 kill (after I get killed once) I get invulnerability (I can't be killed) and my sister gets 0 credits. Could you help me? (I don't want to reinstall Renegade, my progress and movies will be gone.)

Sounds like you have zero-bug.

You gonna have to re-install the game.

You can SAVE your missions and movies by "saving the Save file", just copy it and paste it to an other folder for safe keeping.

Go to your save folder and copy the ENTIRE folder, after reinstall just replace. Dada

Wait a minute (By Pussicat Dolls ;-D), I can use the files from sisters Renegade, right? So I won't have to erase the registry (or what it is called, in our language it sounds like registers)...

Yeah, just overwrite your C:\westwood\Renegade\ directory with the same one from your sister's PC, that should fix it. (Might want to copy and paste the contents of C:\westwood\renegade\data\ to somewhere so you can put it back afterwards)

Also just for reference I have the mission unlocker included here:

http://www.renhelp.net/downloads/SP%20Cheats%20BETA%202.zip

If you have The First Decade or Renegade installed to any location other than default you will have to edit the registry path manually in notepad.

If that happened to me, I would suspect my sister of being a cheating little geek, trying to "pwn" her brother.

It may not be a case of you're invunerable, but she can't do any damage because she has the zero bug, caused by cheating.

Actually, what this sounds like (if it is only you and your sister playing against each other) is that she has the infamous "zero bug", or some variation of it.

What happens with this is that your sister's weapon will do no damage to you, and whenever she fires, her credits return to zero.

The usual cause of this (to my knowledge, there may be other reasosn) is that there is a mod in your sisters data file which has a .pkg extension. Like I say, there may be other reasons, but this is what casued my experience. Remove that file, and the problem should go away. At least it did for me.

Edit: Heh, seems we posted at exactly the same time, reborn

The "0" bug is caused by mismatching armor files, check the data folder for armor.ini, and for more info read my post here:

What? No! She can't cheat! She's only 6 (7 next month)... + we don't fight against each other (we make peace, like Sakura and Havoc going out for a walk or playing with bots as one team, well, 2 membered team against the bots)... Once we were playing a stunt park there was a building... So we played stealh mission (my sis was a guard searching the building for not wanted guests...) And I always play that I'm weaker (PWN my sister and she's gonna COL (Cry Out Loud)...)... Well and once I made it to the roof I was in trap (atleast that's how my sister thought)... I said (Petra! He's trapped! Shoot him before he can escape...) BOOM with an Anti-Panzer Sniper Rifle And I was still alive... That's how I found that bug...

BTW. If you think my sister should not be playing the game, because she's 6 then why is she playing the Doom games (not including the ones where you must use mouse alot)?

It's fixed! It's fixed! The scripts from Sole Survivor mod have been causing that. Everything is OK now...
