This is so bizzare i mean i modified the Orca Rockets to do +50 damage and the Apache Rockets to!

Anyways whenever i get into a Apache/Orca and attack something with the rockets it comes up with a message saying that i am using the "Weapon Damage Hax" and that i am BANNED!
I mean WTF i am the Host/Admin of the server and it bans me...no big problem as i can unban myself but i am totally like WTF with this....i think it is something with the NR not knowing about my modifications

I found this is a file called BIATCH in my FDS!

Are you making these changes server side or client side?

I am assuming you are changing it server side, in which case you should know that changing weapon damage values server side actually has no effect because damage is calculated client side. Which leads me to think your doing it client side, which would be cheating.

Changing objects.ddb damage values on teh server does not work. The only way to increase damage is by changing for example armor.ini or by scripts code.

The reason it kicks you is because your using the normal damage value (client side) and the server thinks it should be the +50 value you changed it to, so it assumes its a cheat. You can't change damage values server side as I said before, because damage is calculated client side.

Ok i partially understand what you mean!

Okay i explain what i do...i go into LE edit the presets to my like e.g Orca Rocket does extra 50 damage than normal
Then i exit LE after saving Preset Tree changes change the objects.ddb to objects.gm for my server then copy & paste the file into my RenegadeFDS/Data folder!

What are you all on about?

What is the difference from Client Sided & Server Sided?
+ How can i change this so NR not think im cheating?

You cannot change damage values on the server-side anyway.

You cant.

You have a mod called BIATCH running on your server that checks for damage hacks.

You have made the orca rockets deal 50 damage instead of the default so BIATCH thinks its a cheat. I will explain this to you as easy as I can.

You changed the damage via objects.dbb and uploaded that to your RenegadeFDS\data folder. But since the damage is calculated client side you actually send the default damage. So the servers goes 'Hey orcas do 50dmg but this guy here is only doing XX damage, OMG THATS DAMAGE HACKS I BETTER BAN HIM'. To solve your problem, disable auto ban cheaters in the BIATCH.ini but cheaters will be able to use damage hacks in your server.

Which probably wouldn't be too much of an issue in a mod server, though that depends on what kind of things you run.

if you run a modded server don't use biatch I know alot of people will reply to this don't listen to him but I am saying by experience don't use it believe me it will save you from alot of issues of it thinking you cheat, if it is just a small server you should be able to detect cheaters on your own anyways..

And Orcas will still do the original damage amount anyway, so you have disabled automatic cheater banning and gained... nothing. Best solution is to undo the changes you made to the damage values, since they won't work anyway.

So you are telling me you can make awesome mods like adding new presets to a server and MASSIVE MASSIVE mods like those Renzor servers and co-Op servers but you can't simply change the preset damage on a Rocket?

Exactly ^^

Just for clarification, it is in fact BIATCH that is banning you and not NR, NR just relays the message to you before you get banned.

OKAY FIRST IRON WARRIOR! I never cheat in my life on Renegade---Except in LAN and MultiPlayerPractice LOL---

I want to make the Orcas and apache missile do more damage cus it is a missile from a Aircraft, i mean come on....if a tank gets hit by a barrage of 3-4 missiles in Reall life from Aircraft he's gonna be hurt!

It is no cheat, i mean i made it fair on all accounts, each team has the same added and Removed things!

So if you say i cheat on my server i have 1 thing to say..."FUCK YOU!"

Anyways moving onwards....how can i mod/edit the missiles so that they do +50 normal damage so that BIATCH don't think i cheat?

Okay, i think i know what you mean i have to edit if it is in RenegadeFDS/Data area....

But i not get it, how does editing the armor make the missiles more powerfull?

It doesn't it mkaes the armor less strong and thus the rockets do more damage .

If the vehicles were weaker then the rockets would destroy them faster. Is common sense present in this topic?

Unfortunately you simply cannot do that easily server side. The only other solution would be to write a scripts.dll script and attach it to every object in the game, to check if the damage comes from an Orca / Apache missile and if it does apply an extra x amount of damage from the shooter. But that requires a decent understanding of c++ to accomplish.

Alternatively create a .PKG mod with all the original maps in, apply your changes in there and have all the people who want to play on your server download that. Not recommended if you ever want to have players in your server.

I dunno, could i change the Orca rockets Velocity or Add a new preset and replace the Orca rockets with that one-?

Would BIATCH think i cheat then?

Please people,
FUCKING READ!

Changing the damage serversde in the objects.xxx DOES NOT WORK.
Not with BIATCH and not without BIATCH...
The only way is with the armor.ini, that works, always.

Renegade Resurrection changes shrapnel damage to 33.3% of Renegade's original amount of damage. And that works server side. Even if some of the clients don't have RR installed.

Do what EvilWhiteDragon said with the armor.ini

That is somewhat like the same thing that bat is looking to accomplish...

Find the

[Scale_CNCVehicleMedium]
and

sections and either change the Shell value from 0.5000 to something higher (increasing scale = increasing damage), but this will also make it take more damage from other tank shells and lots of other weapons. Alternativly change the Explosive value from 0.3000 to something higher, but this will make all rockets, C4 and other explosive weapons also do much more damage.

Because apache / orca rockets do not have their own individual entries in armor.ini you can't change their damage scales without also affecting the damage done by lots of other weapons.

Holy ignorance BATMAN. READ the posts again, armor.ini allows you to edit the actual armor types, not the DAMAGES. YOU CANNOT EDIT THE ORCA/APACHE WARHEAD DAMAGES.

Well if there is absolutely no way i could make the Orca & Apache rockets do more damage then forget the whole thing!

It is obviously way 2 much haste
I thought you could edit anything and do anything if you knew all the tools and where good at it!?
But i just struggle to grasp to concept that out of all the amazing things you can do make server bots, objectives, helicopters dropping of allied bot tanks! Mission setup's and MCT's that register as Refinary's ALL SERVER SIDED!
You can't simply change one warhead to do more damage!
At least without your own server banning you!

It is just unbeleivable!
I am usually very persistant if something is important to me and i really want it done!
Orcas and Apaches should be more powerfull than they are! I mean a stupid soldier with a little sniper can take out a fighter!?! UNLIKELY!
LOL, unless he is using a 50 caliber Uranium Depleted shell that can go through anything!!

2: No one will do this "Coding" 4 me as they get nothing out of it and that it would "take alot of coding"
