Would someone who has more knowledge of the latest renegade cheats please tell me what cheat this is?

Read through that post and watch the video.

*For the users whos aren't going to read the post and watch the video straight away just to let you know its not dialup and/or lowend computer friendly.

Thanks.

I'd guess either infinite range plus wallhack (invisible or translucent wall textures), or 0x90's cheat's ESP Spectate mode.

I thought it might have beent he spec mode from *cheat name removed*but theres nothing for him to spec to. It was just the two of us. I wasn't aware there was a wall hack for siege. But thanks for your suggestion.

As i have seen ppl doing it, its proly ox90's cheat (you guys proly know what it is) where you can spectate ppl, and even shoot them, while, as other ppl would see it, would shoot on the ground and he would keep turning around himself while not walking.

<http://nl.youtube.com/watch?v=Wlpx5i3jS-8>

I didnt taped it, a admin on the gamerz0ne server taped it, he found him doing it.

It could indeed be spectate mode, I think the latest incarnation also allows you to fly around freely (not sure though).

Bleh i quoted the wrong 1, anyway:

The spectate mode allows him to attack/kill you while he is in his own base. I mean with this that he didnt used the spectate for just 'spectating' but he just wanted to kill/damage you while he was safe in his own base.

No you cant shoot while in spec mode from a hack, you end up firing at your original location, what he is using is a all in one hack where he has infinite range, wall hack, he killed you with a pistol it seems, he did the damage a pistol you'd do, then he stopepd for a reload, and you got out, then he reloaded, and hs you and did 50 damage.

That could even be the old *cheat name removed*spectate mode, all you have to do is click on a character and bam, you'll be flying along them. It even works with vehicles, so I don't know what you mean by him having nothing to spectate to.

AoBFrost you are misinformed, because damage detection is client side you can shoot on the client while in spectate and you don't need infinite ammo/wallhack or such.

Well after reading about one of the latest cheats, they removed the ability to fire at people while in spectate to make it look less suspicious, I know there is spectate for other hacks too, espeically those big all in one hacks, so it possible he did spectate, because he head shot caveman easily after he "reloaded" he must have been close by, plus the teleport to the top of agt thing sounds hard to believe, I know some servers have a agt gun which you climb to the top by pressing a button inside/outside of the agt, but for him being on nod, it seems too hard to believe, I have seen infront of me during a 2 vs 1 (2 being me and some nub on nod vs 1 on gdi) someone teleported infront of me and next thing I heard was "gdi base pp is offline"

Teleporting yourself around the map is impossible though cause all movement is done server side. In spectator mode the client simply ignores the servers movement directions (funny thing is the object stays stationary on the other clients but it still rotates with the aim).

Well im assuming you have to spectate your own team? I don't really have the knowledge on how it exactly works. If im wrong then I apologize im just going on hear'say. I wasn't aware there was a wallhack for Siege. Siege was made long after cyberprick made them wallhacks?

Theres always a new improved version of the hack for anything, whenever a new way to catch them is out, theres a new way to be "safe", whenever theres a new major map many servers use, theres a hack for that too.

Hacks are updated once in a while.

Teleport hack is possible since I have seen some server mods use !teleport 2525,1676,6

I typed in a gibberish location, but it is possible to teleport to players, master control terminals, and even coordinates.

So he could spectate me and kill me at the same time? As I said I don't really know *cheat name

Just to clear something up, it was possible to teleport client side but that was fixed with the release of BIATCH. Something to do with the netcode.

RGH, I have used is in LAN games with friends whith us all using it....it was loads of fun, but I don't use it online. You should only cheat if you are playing by yourself and your friends and that they know that you have it.

Sad that people still create cheats, what is even more sad is that people still try to cheat on a game that is this old. Which already has a small amount of players left.

How recent was this? If the server has biatch, obviously no dmg mod's, im pretty sure with biatch a SS will do it. I forgot how it all works out tho.

edit:the new RGH, doesnt bypass RG, and you can't turn it off (as far as I know), in a biatch'd server, no dmg mods, and it will pickup most of the cheats they trying to use anyway. Also, no GUI=hard to use. If they try to use a older version you can turn off, renguard will automatically block them from their network, and if they load up w/o renguard, biatch can detect it. Last time I checked, that's how it all worked out, meaning the only working thing was the aimbot, and you would still get the top left corner *cheat name removed*splash, so SS would work. I was also told 0x90 would be busy for a while and wouldn't release/help people out for a while, but I never heard about this new version.

You do realise that what you've just said would mean that when you had your 1v1 against stonecold and where he got caught using *cheat name removed*because of the screenshots he took... He was actually telling the truth because there hasn't been an update for *cheat name removed*in like 4months. I believe your 1v1 was in a CW server so no dmg mods and it would have had biatch installed? So he wouldn't have been able to turn off *cheat name removed*in the screenshots.

So you can admit that you're wrong or you can admin that stone wasn't cheating and he did in fact press home/insert by accident in them screenshots.

Before you start bitching at me for going off topic, this is my topic and i'll go off topic if I wish.
