Quote:Hospital sources have confirmed to Helsingin Sanomat that eight people were killed in a shooting incident at a school in Jokela in the municipality of Tuusula north of Helsinki on Wednesday.

Five male and two female students at the school lost their lives, as well as the school's head teacher. The shooter, an 18-year-old pupil of the school, was armed with a handgun. He shot himself in the head and died of his injuries in hospital late Wednesday night, never regaining consciousness.

There were many injuries, resulting from both the gunfire and wounds sustained while escaping.

Pupils were evacuated to the nearby Perttu School and Jokela Church.

Name: Pekka-Eric Auvinen

Age: 18

Male from Finland.

I am a cynical existentialist, antihuman humanist, antisocial socialdarwinist, realistic idealist and godlike atheist.

SI VIS PACEM, PARA BELLUM! JUSTITIA SUUM CUIQUE DISTRIBUT! SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS!

I am prepared to fight and die for my cause. I, as a natural selector, will eliminate all who I see unfit, disgraces of human race and failures of natural selection.

You might ask yourselves, why did I do this and what do I want. Well, most of you are too arrogant and closed-minded to understand... You will probably say me that I am "insane", "crazy", "psychopath", "criminal" or crap like that. No, the truth is that I am just an animal, a human, an individual, a dissident.

I have had enough. I don't want to be part of this fucked up society. Like some other wise people have said in the past, human race is not worth fighting for or saving... only worth killing. But... When my enemies will run and hide in fear when mentioning my name... When the gangsters of the corrupted governments have been shot in the streets... When the rule of idiocracy and the democratic system has been replaced with justice... When intelligent people are finally free and rule the society instead of the idiocratic rule of majority... In that great day of deliverance, you will know what I want.

Long live the revolution... revolution against the system, which enslaves not only the majority of weak-minded masses but also the small minority of strong-minded and intelligent individuals! If we want to live in a different world, we must act. We must rise against the enslaving, corrupted and totalitarian regimes and overthrow the tyrants, gangsters and the rule of idiocracy. I can't alone change much but hopefully my actions will inspire all the intelligent people of the world and start some sort of revolution against the current systems. The system discriminating naturality and justice, is my enemy. The people living in the world of delusion and supporting this system are my enemies.

I am ready to die for a cause I know is right, just and true... even if I would lose or the battle would be only remembered as evil... I will rather fight and die than live a long and unhappy life.

And remember that this is my war, my ideas and my plans. Don't blame anyone else for my actions than myself. Don't blame my parents or my friends. I told nobody about my plans and I always kept them inside my mind only. Don't blame the movies I see, the music I hear, the games I play or the books I read. No, they had nothing to do with this. This is my war: one man war against humanity, governments and weak-minded masses of the world! No mercy for the scum of the earth! HUMANITY IS OVERRATED! It's time to put NATURAL SELECTION & SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST back on tracks!

Justice renders to everyone his due.

His account is now suspended and his videos were removed.

All I can say is:

WHY ARE PEOPLE SO FUCKING STUPID?!!11

Geezh, I'm so fucking sorry people have to live and be surrounded by this kind of stupidity.

No one can choose who lives or dies, and if you dislike the fucking system, Go do something about it other than killing teenagers.

This is the 2nd shooting now since VTech? This is becoming more and more of a fad than anything.

The sad fact is, they are all male, I haven't seen a single lethal shooting that was done by a female in a school. That is why suicide bombers look for mainly male recruits.

Women reproduce, they give life.....(I would know) but it is very easy for men especially young men to become depressed, see no point in a lot of things and no way out so they lash out. Many become self harmers or suicidal, but this only gets a reaction from close people to them. The people that turn to homicide see it as a better insult to those that they feel had forsaken them in life because it's a big ripple in the pool for lack of a better expression. It hurts more, it destroys more and they don't see themselves as crazy, idiotic or no lifers. They see themselves as inspired and the extreme religious or even non-religious see themselves as defying God or the no-God that the world so whole heartedly believes in.

It's sad and I feel so badly for anyone who ever gets affected by these killings, it's pointless loss of life, it's hard and it's cruel, but unfortunately that is the way life can be sometimes. Pray for them if you must, send your heart out to them but understand that there is nothing you nor I can do to make the people that do these things to realize the error of their ways or the pointlessness of their efforts because once they start to have those thoughts in their heads there is no going back.

Legal intentions of a gun are for food and defense. They're not meant for offense (murder and such). Therefore, the gun and automobile comparison is pretty damn accurate.

The entire system of how a car works should be tossed. We need to step into the future. Almost all new cars now have GPS systems in them.

They know what street they are on and can find the best way to get from place to place.

-All roads need to have magnetic grips on them. Cars travel on these grips which eliminate cars driving off road and into trees and such. Through this magnetic interaction, information and data should be transferred back and forth and allow cars to find the best route, and least crowded route to get to a destination ON ITS OWN.

-Steering wheels should be replaced with something similar to what aircraft use to steer. They should only be used for manual drive. Most of the time however, cars will be automatically driven.

-Since they would all be bound to set tracks, car accidents will happen little to never, and such traffic will never be a problem. Also speed, it will be much faster because people don't need to worry about going too fast and hitting another car, as it is all averaged out.

-Police will be able to shut down or control cars their are pursuing from a distance.

-All intersections and road crossings should be avoided by a simple underground pass. Sidewalks keep going forward, as roads drive underneath them. Same with intersections. One road is level, while the other either goes above or below the other. (With side ramps to merge them together)

-Also with the magnetic pull of the tracks, gas wouldn't be required (Not a lot anyway) because cars would be pulled magnetically to their destinations.

Err...who will pay for these magnetic strips which carry data? The politicians make a lot of fuss over building one puny little bridge in Alaska...no way this will ever happen.

I would of course be one of the first to pirate this "magnetic strip" that followed Americas freeways. Its not at all likely that a bunch of hill billy children would take an axe to it because pa' said people sherd' drive like i' and my grand pappy' have since dickity two.

Any system that relies on a constant source of external data is destined to fail (Kinda like this internet mumbo jumbo they say they want to make). Any autopilot system will have to be self contained so one failure will cause one problem. Also this system cost the state a GRAND TOTAL OF $0.

The biggest problem isn't technology, its the kahunays. There isn't a car company out there that would put out a full auto pilot system because they would be taken for every dime they have. You can have someone sign a million and one papers on a car purchase but they would still be screwed from all the people out for some mula.

Self contained auto pilots are do-able but really to make it worth anything every car on the road would need to have a transmitter/receiver and some new technology to back it up so pirates don't pull a bluetooth. This will allow the vehicles to be self aware as well as give advanced notice of acceleration/deceleration before the sensors pick it up.

In the future they started with simple "auto drives" that are called FreePilot and it was used for Highways and Interstates because of the easy navigation. It wouldn't allow "roaming" but would use the a pre-planned point a to point b system and would give audio alarms every 5 minutes. If the driver didn't hit the on dash button then the car would immediately find a safe place to pull over.

People still want domestic auto drives but it will require a national overhaul, after the USA was finally converted to the metric system taxes were monstrous and the people want their cake but don't want to pay for it.

EDIT:

Forgot to mention that the first car to feature the FreePilot was the NoTech - Envision.

No, that isn't what I meant. The grips on the roads wouldn't technically advanced at all, other than being able to allow a car to freely switch or change lanes when needed.

The driving computations would all be held in the car itself. What I meant by data was simple signals that tell it "Ok, let this lose and allow it to move left" ect.

The magnets pulling on it is much like costing in a car today. Costing is a way to conserve gas mileage and put money in your wallet. The car is moving from the momentum it already obtained from accelerating before.

Also, the auto drive system I mentioned was as a backup. Something as a precaution. You have all heard the news over the years, truckers and such falling asleep at the wheel...

Just not plausible and really inst well thought out. Have you ever driven across Texas? It's 10 hours at 60mph....That a hell of a lot of metal and maintenance.
