(EDIT: Nearly)Everytime i run renguard spybot search and destroy spews up the change detected by teatimer. I've blacklisted it, but i wish to know if this is intended or if my download has been hijacked and a trojan has been inserted.

Spybot and avg (anti virus free version) run. Also Nod32 before its 30 day trial ended . I have used them all while this problem is existent and none have detected anything. Is it just accessing cfmon, rather than modifying it?(Question for createors)
