Heres the link since it's super freakin huge. Otherwise click the spoiler

Its about time that they brought Cabal back into the game. I mean he was a huge part of the last game then poof, he was gone in C&C3.

He was presumed destroyed in TW2. Also, since KW will span across near the ending of Firestorm and the ending of C&C3, he'll have to show up in some form.

Hes a modification of EVA if i am not mistaken according to Firestorm, with a own will (and hes male, as EVA is probably female i guess).

Edit: Nvm, they addepted EVA for a short time (Nod) in firestorm cause Cabal went rampage, but hes still similar to EVA in some ways.

CABAL was Nod's artificial intelligence, ever notice why you have no EVA/CABAL on the First Nod Firestorm Mission, thats because you have to retrieve it, he got split apart by GDI. CABAL is much more intelligent than EVA, since she doesn't turn sentient, as CABAL did.

Cabal has a bunch of people hooked up to him which is probably why he's smarter. And he also got ioned and started malfunctioning in Ren so that may have contributed to his rebelling.

Cabal though not in the renegade timeline does have some voicing in always.dat that is unused, and kane being constantly cloned after dying each game.....you know someone is doing it, either a bunch of kane's in a secret underground clone base, or cabal himself.

Actually, the damaged CABAL prototype talks over the PA system in the last singleplayer mission of Renegade. Also, Kane doesn't actually die in Tiberian Dawn, as they mention his body was never found. It's also why he has that facial disfigurement in Tiberian Sun, wears a mask over that part of his face, and uses on-the-fly video enhancement to hide it.

CABAL == Nod's version of EVA, that gets its own mind and defects.

Also, some of those lines that he said made me lol.

"Warning, all systems functioning at normal parameters. Warning, all systems normal at functioning parameters. Parameters, all systems warning at normal functioning."

In my opinion (taking into great account the end sequence of FS) I have reached the conclusion that CABAL is a collective of minds brought together that communicates through a computer. This explains CABAL's great intelligence and independence.

Kane can't die.. even the end at Firestorm doesn't matter..

Kane travels through time with his skillz..

He didn't die in dawn, nor in ra or sun and heck.. dying in cnc3.. even if it would seem he does, (i cant tell.. im just guessing from previous games) he will return in the next game as ultimate as ever.

Kane is the master of all. Don't question his powarz.

When was the last time a bald guy ever convinced people to embrace a totally new, revolutionary doctrine?

LENIN!!

EDIT: Bah, it was all Marx's doing anyway but still! And Lenin was not full bald.
