It went offline, because Tony couldn't pay for the server anymore.

Not sure, about a year ago, Tony hosted it of his own server in his house (He had such a awesome i-net connection)

Then he moved to proper hosting, And needed donations, I guess people couldn't donate enough to keep his servers on line..

I have always wondered what happened to baddog. One day it was there and the next day it disappeared and never saw it again.

Now I know.

We never had a permanent marathon server as far as i know. Although on weekends we change it to marathon, just for something different.

And yes, the server is still online. AOW during the week, and marathon on weekends.
