No. It's been done time and time again, why do you think this one is going to be any different?

Signed, although this has been done before, maybe EA doesn't care about Renegade enough anymore to mind giving it out.

That already happened before launch, and it failed. (Some Bink videos are .exe files, so don't worry about viruses - it's directly from the westwood FTP.)

I agree with most people here: this kind of petition won't make a difference.

On a side note: Renalpa, can we make a deal? You stop making stupid unrelated posts so I don't need to delete them each time? We'll both gain a lot of time.

ow didn't saw this one, the source code is like the basic, this is where the game runs on, this code the developer (EA) won't give.
If you have the code, and you know how it works you can change the entire game

(correct me if I'm wrong)

The source code is what the whole game is made of...Without a sourcecode renegade would be uuuuhm...a non existing game!

EA don't listen to the people. They listen to the 'ca-chink' of money

Contra.

Making sources available for everyone would effectively kill Renegade.
