I like the beta, here are my impressions...

My impressions:

---Positive---

-Graphics are very good, almost Doom3-like quality and I don't get much lag.

-Characters look way, way, way better and the weapons are very detailed.

-Maps are quite detailed and the music is good.

-Weapon sounds are all fitting.

-The menu and everything else looks very detailed and Tiberian Sun-ish.

-Weapon 1st person hand animations are well-done.

---Negative---

- I don't like pressing Q to use the sniper rifle, and the scope is cluttered with too much shit.
- GDI is way too overpowered, especially the Jumpjet Infantry.
- Glitch! If you click twice really fast, you can fire off two shots with the Ghost Stalker's rail gun.
- On some maps, you can see into the void or see where the terrain ends when flying.
- The grenade launcher for the cadre rifle has a back model that someone forgot to remove, I guess. It looks stupid.
- Why do the flamethrower bullets make the screen shake? :/
- Mutant characters are too hard to kill in Tiberium.

Overall, I like it for what it is right now despite some minor problems. I can't wait for the full version of Reborn. Only 2 or 3 more years hopefully!

IN BEFORE EVERYONE SUCKING SCRIN'S DICK TO GET A REALLY SIMPLE RADAR HUD FOR REBORN.

Also, excellent job, Reborn team. I do suggest reducing the jumpjet's speed, and also balancing out the ghost stalker a bit. He can take out a cyborg commando fairly easily, or end in a draw. That's completely unfair considering Cyborg Commando costs 3,000 compared to 1,750.

The MP gaming server has terrible pings, btw: 2000 + .

Really weird, that server hosted renegade games of 60 players before, and players did warp allot last night when it first went up. Don't know how it was through the night.

To be fair, my ping was actually 200-250, I checked and most other players had similar pings. The SFPS was a constant 60, i'm not sure why we was experiancing that.

It maybe because I was running it with SSGM, all the other server's seemed to be running it using the normal client scripts.dll. I will experiment tonight (if my reformat goes well) and see what I can do. The hardware should be more then capable fo a 30 player server. That's all it was running.. Nothing else.

Oh, and I will make sure I remember to bring up any issues with your servers for everyone else too

Apoligies, the ping did go down afterwards to around 200-260 (which is still quite bad but playable).

The reason for my intervention here is that MP-gaming was the only reborn server available at that moment and it was acting up very badly. I'm happy that these things got solved.

No worries, turns out it was a simple mistake...

Both myself and Oxi was logged into the server at the same time, we had alt-tabbed out and were constantly checking files etc etc whilst setting everything up, but apparently the both of us logged into a session was causing the warping and crap.

With us logged out of the sessions it was running smooth
Thank fuck for that tbh, I was worried that the FDS was going to be a total resource whore.

That fact that they spend dozens of there free time? In this mod without getting paid for it, that doesn't count for you?

Have you ever played the 2003 release and see what it's like now?

Hell, I had to update my DirectX and whatnot to get it to work.

Not only graphical has Reborn gone beyond the edge. The buildings , inf ecta looks alot better and without those bugs of being able to walk trough buildings.

Anyone who isn't a computer geek can install Reborn now. I think that's a plus too.

If EA would have made it i'm sure they wouldn't have done a better job.

Also there is various of Youtube video's where it does show tanks, So I assume they have tanks but it's just not ready to be released yet..

I'd rather wait for this mod to be a Renegade 2 then wait for EA to create a Renegade 2 that will never see the light of day.

I'm afraid walking through buildings is back... only slightly though... (Silver thing on HON has no collision, so I can walk through it)

I also found that a jumpjet trooper with enough luck can get beacons into unreachable places... might want to consider making sure you can't place beacons on ledges of Nod PP, as it isn't reachable from the ground at all, example attached.

Finally, a minor texture glitch on BeachFront (Using an ATI HD 2600)

Otherwise I'm very happy with this, I'm sure that they'll get vechs out soon.

Found a bug, if you climb the right hand ladder (right when facing towards the upstairs area) in the nod PP you get stuck inside the purchase terminal. I had to suicide to move away from that spot. I can't remember which map this was on, but there are only 3 so you should be able to test it pretty quickly.

Also the GDI Vulcan cannons do not seem very responsive, I could stand in almost full view of them and shoot at them and they would not fire back, might need a bit of tweaking.

Other than that I can't say that I found anything massively wrong, although it's a bit odd that lilitth (sp?) can heal herself just by shooting at her feet.

EDIT: One other thing actually, jumpjet infantry can place beacons on the roof of things like the tiberium silo / power plant / barracks etc where Nod would have a hard time disarming them, and in some locations it would be impossible to disarm them without some flying infantry of their own. Might need some script zones to prevent beacon deployment in some places.

New thoughts: I don't think jumpjets should be allowed to have C4, as they can just drop them all over buildings in places Nod techs wouldn't be able to get to.

Also, if you jump into the fan on top of the Hand of Nod, shouldn't you get killed?

Canadacdn wrote on Wed, 27 February 2008 22:07Also, if you jump into the fan on top of the Hand of Nod, shouldn't you get killed?

If you stand on top of the fan and plant a beacon it goes through the fan so even if Nod units could get on the roof of the Hand of Nod to disarm it they wouldn't be able to because the fan's mesh would absorb the repair beam. I assume it's just missing the physical collision option.

Played the skirmish for 5 minutes and found two 'bugs'.

The Jump-Jet Infantry firing animation in 3rd person view is at the floor, he shoots at the floor.

Also, the Nod Lazer Turrets needs a smoother targeting system, it's not cool when they just jump around at the target as it locks on every X seconds.

I'll play it for longer and find more, i know i'll find more...

Other than that, and the lack of framerates, it's not bad, not bad at all.

Did the same and was gonna report those just both just now. About the laser turret things, they can't hit me at all if I use a "the jump glitch" <-MAJOR issuse, maybe already been reported before? Anyway, in a 20min skirmish game, I found a few glitches/bugs, (only on that freeze map), ill prob get around to making a topic about it on reborn forums. I was VERY surprised when the map loaded, it def doesn't look like the w3d engine...amazingly done! That along with the mod tools and FDS meterials already released and working smoothly? Im quite impressed.

That reminds me, in future can you make installing the Server components optional, like the LE components? I don't really need a server installing as well, since I have no intention of hosting a server on my home PC.

I know it not exactly taking up a lot of disk space, but it's just a minor thing that bugged me a bit.

It was optional when you do "cutom install" (like I did). But i agree that u might want to turn that off in common install.

I did a custom install, you could disable the LE parts (which I did) but not the server parts, since they were listed under the same item as the core Reborn files.

Ok, remove the crappy CNC3 EA logo, and give it the traditional WESTWOOD logo. That'd make me happy.

And in the LE, re-add the large blocker please... I tend to use that object a lot, and it's very useful.

Agreed, Renegade was made by Westwood, not Eat Artichokes.

Unfortunately, since EA still owns the rights to the engine, they're the ones who gave permission/rights to the Reborn team to release it as a standalone, and my guess is that EA made it a requirement to include that opening video (correct me if I'm wrong, please).

At least you can simply hit escape to skip it, unlike C&C3 (where you need a mod to disable it).

^^Wrong. Reborn put it in as a sign of good will.

It'd be good if it wasn't unbalanced, didn't have all the bugs (people getting stuck in the most OBVIOUS of places, like putting the silo too close to the PP on some map, I spotted a few errors in maps etc. I thought this was tested?), and the textures were more consistent (I see high resolution in some areas it doesn't really matter (outside barracks, for one) and crap textures on the players.

Also, crappy EA logo is crappy.

Hehe...I am downloading it right now! 9 minutes left...it's going pretty fast on a 18.0 Mbps Linksys wireless connection. Around 25-30 minutes.

Can't wait to play but I am gonna run around in LAN for a bit to familiarize myself.

EDIT:

DOWNLOAD OVER!

Damn this is so amazing. I will be on this the whole night.

Some pretty big bugs that NEED to be fixed are the cyborg point glitch (Cyborgs and Cyborg commando give 0.5 points per damage, cyborg gives 500 upon death, CC gives 450), and the fact that JJ's can ion in places engineers/technicians can't get to. I'd say those are priority. More than half the reason why Nod loses is because cyborgs give too many points, or because they can't use cyborgs which are excellent against JumpJet's.

Jumpjets are easy to take out with the black-hand aswell.

I actually won with a Nod team last time (basekill).

The mod is great, it does need a patch which should involve alot of fixes/balance issues. (GDI is going to win every game if teams are evenly matched) and once the tanks are in this mod is going to be one to stay.

Anyone have favorite bugs? Mine is the rapid-firing rail gun on the ghost stalker. It's great to take out silos in about 20 seconds without reloading or using any ammo.

The jumpjet gun, if you look correctly it is always facing the ground under you and yet it shoots straight forward.

Or the nod rocket soldier that holds his bazooka with one hand ^^

What I noticed was the Nod silo's HP go from 3/4 to 1/4 in about four seconds.
