I'm someone that loves working on anything mechanical, and of course, that means vehicles with four wheels...

... But I've always felt that while four wheels is great, eighteen is always much better!

I'm in love:

To the gearheads out there: what's your favorite piece of machinery? The bigger, the meaner, the deadlier = the better!

It's really not excitement that I had, just common knowledge!

Is that a Transformer?

Seriously, that's one awesome truck. I can imagine Donald Trump cruisin' around in one.

Look at all them buttons I can press lol. On a serious note; Very nice looking truck, not really my thing but its still nice nevertheless.

I prefer to work/use things with two wheels. Notihng is more exciting then stripping a 1986 SP400 engine that probably weighs more then me

I really dislike big things. I prefer small, light, and fast as opposed to big and heavy.

I prefer fast nimble agile machines over more impressive but bigger "toys."

Having said so, enjoy a lap of the Monaco Grand Prix Circuit aboard a Formula One car piloted by the great (and late) Ayrton Senna. You might want to turn up the volume on this impressive clip:

that is one awesome truck, i will have to show it to my buddy. he is a truck driver so maybe he can ask for one... or atleast keep dreaming lol.

and inside the cab is awesome.

would love to see the engine on that monster.

this is something that you could call a very efficient "toy"

I think so Fobby. I have never heard of the Mini Gryphon. A quick Google search confirmed my suspicion (given Zion Fox's open background history).

That is pretty cool looking for a big rig truck. As for my favorite "machine", I guess it depends if its an automobile, construction equipment, plane, etc. Hmmm OMG, mammys would kick and own ass except they are so damn slow. If you ever need to retreat you would be dead before you could even go 20 feet.

But my pig bus wins over everyone's idea, except for that tank. :S

For me? Old cars.

I can't wait to get my pushrods for my new motor in. The last part I need. Once they get in I can torque down my motor and bolt it into my nova.

HP? 450 - 500hp. All new 383 stroker, aluminum heads, race cam, etc. Only used part on it is the block which has been machined, cleaned and thoroughly checked. Oh ya, its going into my daily driver! Should compilment my drag racing transmission pretty good.

Stop with the gay sex relations. I think an mammy would win because GDI vechs pwns. Also a light tank FTW because of its speed and price. Get like 10 lights overwhelming 2 grizzlys.
