Go and kill the first mate first. he is up the tiberium room. Just keep going up until you killed him. The kill the captain objective will come up. First go through the yellow door and you will reach a place that have huge opening. go to the other end and enter a stair well go down first to disable the torps then go up until you reach the captain.

Has anyone gotten to this level? It's the level where you are to save Sydney, but I have not been able to kill all the Nod solders in this part right after that short cut scene where that Dr. whats her name, I forgot her name, but anyway I am stuck there and if anyone can tell me how they beat it, I would appreciate the help. Been on this level for a few hours now are u talknig about the fight with Petrova? where u have to save sydney. If so what i did was run to the center thing where the pwoer ups are, whip out the volt rifle and fire constantly sweeping for side to side, the soldiers died and i then finished her off

i was out of volt rifle first of all, don't shoot petrova or go in the room until you have collected all you canon the second ramp there is a spot where different weapons keep droppingbe patient and save all you can, then kill the things in the cages from outside the room, use the pistol no need to waste ammoonce you have done this and have gotten all the ammo, armor health you can, save run straight into the room after the video, back straight out and over the edge run around get more health and killing blk hands, run back into the room and into one of the cages(i chose the one on the left)stay in there, kill any blk hands you see from the room pull out your personal ion cannon if you still have it if not, choose your most powerfull weapon and wait for petrova to pop into view. shoot her and wait for her to come back, keep shooting her till she is dead, then savethen do not pick up the secure card until you have run around and killed remaining blk hands and collect all armor, health etc. then go back to the room and savepick up secure card then leave sydney in the room as you go across the way into the red doors and kill all blk hands in there and in lab below, then go back and get sydney go back to the red room across the way and down to the lab go into the core(red doors in the lab) kill all blk hands in there and any you can see above you. join sydney on elevator go up. kill all on that level and try to shoot those above you keep repeating this process all the way up, save often if you have good health and always shoot those above you till you get to the top. watch the rope that the blk hands keep coming down once you get to the top, protect sydney as she hacks the computer and you are done

Thanks - got the volt rifle, got in the temple after the ion cannon blew it up but I ran in and fell to the bottom level - have killed all the guys I can find, but can't seem to get into two doors that "require security clearance" - did I go too far too fast??
