I'm at the Boss, Petrova. And I can't beat her. I think she's impossible! She is the one that is turning Sydney into a mutant and is a mutant herself. I could probably kill her alone, but she has lackies that shoot her with Tiberium Rifles, which heal her. And her gun kills me in 4 shots. Anyone beat her? I could use some tips.

Take out the Black hands with some tiberium weapon first, then burn the mutants, then hit her with the volt auto rifle in the head, she'll be stunned and easy prey. Just keep firing on the head.

I used the Personal Ion Cannon to beat her, It takes about 5 or 6 shots and she's dead.

But everytime I go for her, her lackies heal her, then when I go to kill them, she kills me!

My way is really cheap. Stand away from the room she's in, on the left wall of the room there's a visceroid. Shoot it with the pistol until it's dead. On the right wall there's two initiates. Shoot them too. Then, put C4 all over the floor. Watch the cutscene. After it's over, take a few steps back and head down. Time it for about when the Black hands will step on them, then detonate. Get out the rocket launcher and get to the bottom floor. Health and armor spawn there. Kill her from here, you may have to kill some black hands though too.

Here's the way I used to beat her:When you reach the top of the core (before the cutscene) stand off to the sides and pick off the mutants and visceroids in the cells with your pistol. Then head into the cutscene.When you can move again, dash behind the red cage Sydney's in, and the BH's shouldn't shoot you once you're behind it. You'll take quite a bit of damage while getting there. From behind the cage, pick off the stealth guys by strafing around. If Petrova starts shooting, duck back behind the cage until she stops.When the black hands are gone, step out from behind the cage and run around facing the ramp until she shows herself by shooting. Paste her with a laser rifle so she stops and flails around while burning, and charge her until you're up close. When you empty your current laser magazine, switch to the flamethrower and she should be easy work.

This is how I did: I was hiding in those small rooms (in one of those rooms there was also an initiate) first I killed all of her "lackies", the I killed her with the Personal Ion Cannon.[Hint]: Shoot her one time and then quickly hide in one of the small rooms, do this over and over again.

Well, I did it. I got the lackies with the Flamer, I didn't even know they died that fast by it. So I was happy. Then I used the volt gun on her, ran out of ammo and finished her off with the ChainGun to preserve laser ammo. After that stupid Sydney kept running ahead of me and dying, but I figured out were all the guys were eventually and killed them fast. Then the game was over....weak, I want more!
