Server: n00bstories
Time :yesterday
Mod: Spotelmo

here's what happened
my orca got stolen by a sbh coz i got out to get a hotwire
So Spotelmo saw that and n00bed me for that.

So i n00bed him back for n00bing me.

Come on man i was just pissed off.
Its just a game + we won that game so the stolen orca didn't make any difference.

plzzzzzz enable me again. I can't play like this ill even make you a peanut butter and jelly sandwich

It's part of that server, not the game. Recommendations have almost NOTHING to do with gameplay unless the server is modified to an extent to where it is.

Go to n00bstories' website, and post there if you're honestly that desperate about something as useless as recs.

What you need to do is stop posting, especially DOUBLE posting. Nobody gives a shit about what happened to you on a server. Hell, we don't give a shit what happened to you in real life.

Got a new girlfriend? We don't care. Had your bike stolen? Nope, don't care. Got banned from a server? Couldn't fucking care less. Got a bot command disabled? Really don't give a flying fuck.

Chances are, it was another 'blackhole' who just used that name before you.

Just register a new name, and make a post in the 'Renegade Server' section of the forums, explain the situation, and be sure to tell them your in-game name.

You keep double posting, although the logical thing to do is to NOT do that. If my assertion that nobody gives a fuck is "retarded", then your incessant double posting surely is merit for the same label.

I agree with Blue here actually you said it yourself blackhole:

Quote:Its just a game

Recs are pretty useless they do not show skill neither does rank the only thing a high rank and a lot of recs show is that you play on that server a lot, THEY DO NOT MEAN ANYTHING!

Indeed, recs have no bearing on a players skill level and such, they are just a cheap thing that some players like to collect. Generally they just indicate how often someone plays on a particular server.

You fucking idiot, you don't noob back a moderator when YOU indeed did a retarded thing. That depends. It has also happened to me, while I don't think I was doing an idiotic thing. Exemple: orca is red and you step out to give it a quick rep to fall back. U then get sniped -> headshot. You loose your orca but is it because you're a n00b or because you got unlucky?

Same if you fly in, for exemple on Walls Fly, behind the ref; noone is around. You go in the ref and put c4 on it. The time you place your timed and remotes, someone gets in your orca. You loose it but you kill the ref. Are you a n00b? Don't think so.

Ofcourse there's like 20 different n00bish ways to loose an orca as well. I won't argue that.

I don't think the moderator was right. If you give people a n00b, then you must also accept it when they n00b you back. It's different when someone goes on a !rec or !n00b fest, giving them out to 10 people in one minute.

I don't get what the big deal is, though. !rec and !n00bs aren't exactly the most important feature in the game. Sure, it's nice to be recommended from time to time.

So my personal opinion: !recallow the guy again, he has been "punished" for long enough.

It depends, if he left it in the field, while trying to attack some random soldier with his and get killed, it's his fault. But if it's a sacrifice of an Orca for enemy Refinery, I think everyone would say it's more than a fair trade.

couldn't have said it any better.
And that guy sudakar or something. Dude plzzz be quiet.

Now back to the case. If this topic stays open, its great for me.
i only suggested to close it coz of all the reply's like:
WHO GIVES Fuck, and shit like that now...im on another computer..triyng to register but i get the same message. So im guessing the only way is a realy really reallyyy unique name.

i tried all sorts of nicknames witch think were all unique butt still didn't work.

I can do 2 things. 1.Wait for that mod to show up in that server.
2.keep trying to register

And let me clear this up. The ORCA'S health was low , so i got out at the WF to get myself a hotwire. I did this in like 4 secs.
If a vehicle gets stolen witin 4 seconds means the person(sbh) was very nearby or just waiting for a vehicle to "pop out" now it wasn't like i placed my orca at the wf, and walked to the power plant or something. So for me to get n00bed about something that would've happened to anybody who got out of their vehicle at that place is ridiculous.

1. Did the stolen orca make a big difference in the game?....no
  2. did the stolen orca survive till the end of the game?.....no (got destroyed not 5 min later)
  3. Did we loose the game?.....no
- as a matter of fact i was MVP by killing a nod building and gathering points with a med tank.

Okay, I get the point to being helpful, but n00bstories DOES have an IRC applet on their site. It seems like THAT would not only be a more EFFICIENT way of figuring out this problem with people that are actually capable of helping, but it would actually help to support independence. I hate using these stupid cliches, but they're so damn right... "give a man a fish, and he'll eat for a day. teach a man to fish, and he'll eat for a lifetime." Stop coddling people who are capable of doing this on their own be it by figuring it out themselves or asking the RIGHT people. Seriously, how hard is it to actually think, "I was in the N00BSTORIES server, so I should GOOGLE 'n00bstories'"? Hell, it's not even a stretch of the imagination to try n00bstories.com...

in what i don't see the logic..is people posting on here who think this is shit.

If u try to help me..thats great, thanks.

if u think this is a waist of time, or you don't see the logic, why in the world are you still here.

If u don't reply, i won't reply either and thats how this topic can come to an end

It's not even the issue I'm concerned with. It's the principle of asking for help when there's no effort put forward to find the proper place to ask it. The fact that people automatically default to the community forums is stupid, especially when it's just as easy to Google the server's forums/site.

Then, if people can't find what they're looking for with reasonable effort put forward, then asking the forums about where to go would be appropriate, instead of creating a thread bitching about the situation at hand.

I think this topic has come to an end. One advice though, Sadukar: if a server had a vehicle limit of 7 and all get a vehicle and put remotes on it to blow it if stolen, then there would be almost no mines left to mine the base.
