Okay, I've done a few models on Gmax, and I wanted to change the scale back to meters for another map that I'm making (the first is for Reborn) and since I changed the scale to feet, I wanted to change it back to meters. I did that on the preferences, but now the box that gives length, width, and height are still showing feet. How do I change this back to how it was originally.

Pretty sure all you need to do is hit Customize, then in general you can change the System Unit scale back to metres.

I did that, but it is still showing feet and not meters.

Try File Reset then, it should reset everything to how it was before you messed with stuff, though if you changed alot of preferences or viewports and you wanted to keep it that way, dont hit reset. If not i dunno cause i never bothered to change it, and i dont want to try and then be stuck with feet also like you are lol.
