I am only posting this one coz I think it is really kick ass.

Toggle Spoiler

I was trying to put a camo pattern into the effect, coz I thought it would be funny for the stealth effect to be camo. I could not get the camo pattern to show up right so I just started messing around and kinda stumbled upon this while screwing with the colors.

Hope you enjoy

Also if you would like this pattern in a different color and are too lazy to do it yourself just let me know about what color you would like it and I will change it and post it for you.

You want the MRLS? I have not thought to post them, because they were really really simple (plus not in a pack).

But if you would like them I can post the file.

So we can put any picture on the stealth effect file and it will reflect on the tanks in-game?

I'm not a Skinner or anything, but pretty much, they can do a lot.

What I did was, I tried to take a camo pattern and place the whole thing over the stealth effect DDS.

The problem was on the SBH you could only barely make out the detail if you knew what you were looking for, and it scrolls kinda fast on the SBH. On the stank you could see the detail a lot more clearly, but the colors were not coming out of the camo like I wanted them to.

I got a lil annoyed and just started kinda doing random color changing via hue/saturation and the original blue caught my eye. So I tried it and the original camo pattern doesn't show so much, but it gives a neat multi-colored effect that apparently comes out nice.

I hope that kinda made sense to help.

Edit: If it did not make so sense, I was basically explaining yes it will reflect, but pending on the pattern selected how well it will.

Also just in case you did not know the darker the colors are in the stealth effect the more see-through that area is in the effect. So basically if you just make it black like you were trying to make him a solid shadow then you would not be able to see the SBH at all when stealthed all you would see is the players name floating until they shot or got under 50 HP.

AKA it's using Additive blending. If you want to preview it, change the blend mode to "Linear Dodge (Add)" in Photoshop and stick an image underneath.
