Yesterday late in the evening I browsed between Renegade's emitter files during a creative break and found the the emitters for flesh.

Played a bit around with them and had the spontaneous idea to make a quick lil "BloodMod". My clanmate made some nice textures and I modified the emitters for them.

We created 8 variants. From bloodyashell to flowers & magicdust.

Have Fun! Hope you like it.

Well now that I look at it, I would kind of consider that an advantage skin.

Forget these stupid advantages who cares about that ? everyone want to pimp his renegade, by telling someoone "omg advantage skins yiu have" will not help anything

This blood mod is great for sniping lol!!!!!!!! Especially if you are SBH sniper.

I don't run my settings on high but only when sniping. this would be great lol to see a Havoc die in a giant bloodbath lmfao

There's a different between pimping up renegade with nice skins or with bright yellow green pink skins. Not all skins are advantage skins...
Surely not. But the fact remains that the really awesome skinsets are barely used while a lot of people want their renegade bright pink, with a bit of bright green and yellow, and some spectacular (visible) stealth skins, which could be seen from a mile away...

In order for it to work I do believe you need you performance to be at the maximum.
