Regardless of what the standard polycount is for Renegade, that is WAAAAAY too many for just that.

Also, are you referencing anything, or just making it out of nowhere?

ehhh what? anyways its for a small own roleplay map im working on check out this gun low polys still good?

(just test texture)

I want you guys to tell me what i do wrong and what i could do to make better models

I woudln't put more then 500 polys into a weapon. Even that is pushing it.

Do anyone know how much polys Reborn Weapons have?

Wouldnt 500 Polys look a bit empty ? And thanks for the info

Most weapons for first person can have around 2000 polygons with little change to your framerate. The third person model for your weapon should have less.

Indeed. Renegade is CPU limited on most hardware so 3000 polys wouldn't cause any problems at all. Just make sure they are batched (aka 1 mesh, no per-vertex materials, etc) because the amount of draw calls do count.

no u.

Also, most high poly weapons don't even use the poly's properly. The pistol seems somewhat alright, but holy shit, that uzi is TERRIBLE.

That's actually not too bad. Just get a better texture for the sides and top and it would look good.

Jesus christ you are such a fag. Your shitty cnc3 mod won't get anywhere with a fag leader like you. you would probably cheat in it if it got anywhere anyway, it won't go beyond the stage of texturing because you havn't a fucking clue how to do anything.

You say that because ur jealous that Tiberian Wrath is better than BfDuuuh. BfD fails. I'm really sad that that idea got taked by a n00b like cnc95fan

Now shut up. Your a fag. I dont want to ruin my friends topic. Come to america and say the thing you want to say IN MY FACE!

Cncfan, you made the mistake. You gave in to his constant trolling, and this is your fault. I hope you're having fun.

This is fucking pathetic, beyond belief- MY MOD IS BETTER THAN YOURS, LOL. You know what? If you truly can play into that strategy then you're a massive douchebag.
