I just found out my brother bought KW and didnt use the beta key. So I'm all excited and I register and it says.

They have enough people. If they need more they will contact me. : ( No RA3 beta for me...

186 was my guess and the number picked was 235. I was decently close. Oh well. I'd play the BETA but I'm not willing to fill EA's pockets just to try it. If they actually planned to listen to the communities feedback they would open it up to the public in a more managed way.

What are you talking about? How more "managed" do you want it?

They are adding 10,000 players a week, taking all the feedback in and fixing it in patches. I don't see how it could possibly be managed better than it is right now...

What do you mean "don't want to give it to you?"

You mean fileplanet isn't letting your download it?

Do you want their BS with a spoon or a fork? Sorry but I have no respect or trust left in EA. They aren't going to listen to one bit of feedback. The only feedback they'll listen to is if more then 1000 people make the same complaint. Even in that case it would be something their testers would find.

I ran the server owner's group for battlefield 2. It was a complete joke. Ya I had the ea rep that the group could work with but even with over 350 distinguished BF2 server owner's they wouldn't listen to anything we had to say. They barely even made the connection with us and even then it was just to make us happy.

There is a RA3 beta keys contest on APB forums, too late to enter now though.

It's an immensely fun game so far, and it's not even finished! Tons of people are complaining that it breaks away from the tried and tested C&C formula, and that it makes fun of itself too much, but once I'd played a few good matches I decided I love it! Hopefully they don't lock out the beta until the day before the final game's released, so I can have it on pre-order and then not lose any playing time.
