Start --> Run, type "cmd"

In the command box, type "ping c.xwis.com" and tell us what the output is (specifically, whether or not you get "Unable to find host")

That's unusual. I like unusual problems

Can you open your hosts file ("C:\Windows\System32\Drivers\Etc\Hosts" in Vista and XP, open it with Notepad) and remove the entry probably looking like:

"64.34.46.60 c.xwis.com" (remove any entry that has "c.xwis.com" on that line)

c.xwis.com is 64.14.244.60, NOT 64.34.46.60, which is what your system thinks it is.

Problem freaking solved. (I hope)

hey carrierII mine ahs like 567890 number of 127.0.01 ip's placed by spybot search and destroy then has this at end (i put in the xwis one myself)

End of entries inserted by Spybot - Search & Destroy
212.162.52.233 irc.westwood.com
212.162.52.233 servserv.westwood.com
64.14.244.60 c.xwis.com

does it look right?

2)
And emperor115 check ur pm or run this under admin mode if u have vista hit set XWIS

emperor115 wrote on Sun, 17 August 2008 14:26 I tried it but it still doesnt work thanks anyway

- 1)check firewall settings
- 2)check router firewall(if have one and port forward all the games port numbers)
- 3)ahh virus or spyware scan?
- 4)check any anti virus or spyware program u got installed on ur pc

im not so good with this like ur other post u cant get any game to work online...its something blocking it Sounds like your ISP's DNS is kind of useless.

Add the line

64.14.244.60 c.xwis.com

to your hosts file, removing any existing entries relating to "c.xwis.com", that might work.

I think that XWISC tool is broken...

Please stop triple posting and remove that huge signature. If people think they can help you, they'll reply. If not, then they won't.
