Umm.. I killed every single mf on that ship, no joke. This is the kind of games I like killing as many enemies as possible, preferably all of them. Just keep killing and you will find it eventually. Spent 3 hours I think on that level, had a great time You are talking about the ship level where you escape with the group in a sub, right?Hidden

Try rushing through one of the locked doors when soldiers open it, you might need to fire something to attract them. Anyone know where to locate the captain? I've killed all in the main bridge at the front of the ship and the bridge near the stern.[March 16, 2002: Message edited by: Nibbo]

It's easy to do, just find the big hanger where you get the secondary objective of killing the apache, then go up the stairs to the TOP.
