the bunkers are dark places, inside the bases, there is plenty of spots, as for the rest, under doesnt offer that much.

The rocks near the entrances to each base are excellent "defense" sniping spots. Both sides can use them to keep the main hill out of enemy control. I killed two Sakuras as a Deadeye hiding behind the rock.

I don't think Under is actually a good map for sniping, like Wall and others, but I agree that the rocks at bases entrances are the best spots, coz bunkers are too predictable and are the first place I shoot with my tanks or missiles and in most cases I kill someone.

We were all newbes once, but I can't remember being THAT dumb! You should have shot his ass a couple of times to get his attention, preferably with a couple of mammoth tank, cannon or rocket rounds. Seriously, stupid newbes **** me off, you can't help just siting there and watching as they run across an open field, blissfully unaware that a sniper is lining them up for a head shot and then have them complaning that they can't play the game properly cause they keep dying. USE COMMON SENSE PLEASE!

My fave Under spot is the Nod tunnel entrance (playing as Nod), provided noone comes up to the entrance you can usually pick off scores of hotwires and gunners attacking your base.

a good spot to snipe in under is the side curve around the tiberium... not too explanatory but when u get out of the gdi base, u turn left and theres the huge curved land that goes to the enemy bunker. heh i prolly took out about 50 havocs with the H.O.N. sniper cause i go straight for the head. i also blew up so many ppl too, lol that stuff is so fun.
