By the way people, my ingame nick is NOT illusive. I keep my forum and game nicks seperate to avoid the usual "You cheated, you killed me" crap.

Step right on it for about 15-20 sec, and it should disamr it (and by the time the nuke arrives, take a good step back, and laugh!Noob is spamming the game with "I need repairs"What to do? tell him to get out of his tank cause you need to be an ingi inside to repair it! than leave the middle of the battlefeild to leave a chance to the ingis to repair it, and get back into the battlefeild shooting everything. If he complains, the "shut up nOOb!" is recomended!

If you press Ctrl-Alt-F4 at the same time, you get access to a nuke beacon which can destroy the entire base in one shot. If you put a small divot (no more than 1cm) above the "R" on the Data disc, you remove the section which has the ammo limits and clipping restrictions. If you curse in the WOL chat rooms, they email you a "cheats" code. If you plant a beacon with less than 50 seconds to go in the round, you automatically become MVP (don't NEED to spread this one around, as people already seem to believe it   )
