How come when you look next to the Address bar and your on the Renegade forums you don't see a picture like the ones in the picture I uploaded. Even Command And Conquer Red Alert A Path Beyond has one why not these forums have it.

Why not make one of them.

How come the Renegade
Forums doesn't have a logo
like the other pages.

Best suggestion and best topic you have ever made.

Well done to you Sir.

I noticed it didn't have a logo as well, it needs one, so I support this.

You could even use the icon I made a while back as it includes every common icon size from 16x16 up to 256x256. Its large because of that, but once its downloaded it would get cached anyways.

That one is a bit too large. If someone provides one that is the proper size I will add it.

There you go, just the 16x16 and at 894 bytes.

You forgot to preserve the transparency

1.12kb, 32-bit, transparency preserved and quality preserved. (attached)

I second this motion.

It adds a uniqueness to the site, especially when it is favorited in someone's long list of favorites in a browser.

Thinking of why I suggested that large version in the first place, I was reminded by the above post + 1. Simply if a user creates a shortcut to these forums on their desktop, or favorites the site, it will pull the appropriately sized icon out. Though I'd have to say that anything above 48x48 would be too much. If you want me to remove all sizes except 48x48 and smaller just let me know.

I asked you first. Quote:OK.

Then it is a fact, the Ren image makes you aroused you might want to stay off the Renegade Community website and the Renegade forums as soon as it gets the Renegade logo or you will get a bonner or get aroused.
