The lighting in some of those is fucking horrible.

The lamp posts have a square glow, and the HoN just looks retarded. The obelisk lighting is okay but spotty in places.

Actually I have a simple question, how do you make high definition pictures based from screenshots?

These pictures are bigger in size than pictures which are taken by printscreen, or fraps which is lower quality.

Do you use another software to take bigger sreenshots with higher quality? if so could you tell me what software you use?

You overdid the bloom. You should also try just using BloomH or BloomV (remove the other one from the list) to get different effects.

He doesn't ignore lol...his Renforums nickname has brackets [ ]...and this prevents your PM from getting to him...it's a forum glitch

That's probably why he did not respond. You should PM him from the Renegade-x forums.

If you PM'ed him from Ren-x forums and he ignored, then lol you are outta luck

While I agree ethically it's not correct to show off things other people made without crediting them, I'll leave this topic alive. It's not as if he's releasing models or even textures, he just made a screenshot of them. Renardin, you should find out where your leak is and close it...
