So I run my server for a while and don't notice anything.. I don't think the bot will EVER say anything on the auto announce list.. So besides that little issue, I was wondering once I can get it to work, what I can do to make it spew out announcements more often. Help would be much appreciated.

I'm running BRenBot 1.52 (build 1).

Ok and do you know any reason my bot will never announce anything? will it not announce if the game has no players?

It won't announce anything when the server is empty because.... well, there's nobody to see it!
