yes pawky, i am. However it must be 800x600 and if possible, a better looking HUD. Why would i need a better computer? mine is great!

Better yet would be if people would stop making HUDs that require one specific resolution. Nothing in the HUD code means that your HUDs need to require the specific resolution, its just laziness from HUD authors who dont want to do things properly.

No. Just up your resolution. Seriously, 800x600 sucks.

Now that 3.4.4 works for me, what would be the best HUD for me to download?

(I didn't want to make new topic for this question)

I've seen some good huds here, I just don't know what's available.
