I made a loggin on renegade and then it said invalid serial number and junk like that but then the next day i made a diff one and now its just fine but it wont connect me to network it always says could not connect me and i was timed out from server....

Your info is very limited to say the least :-S. The invalid serial message indicates that you don't have a legal copy of Renegade. If that's the case, then we cannot help you.

If you bought C&C-TFD and filled in the keys correctly and it still sais your serial is invalid you should contact EA support (support@ea.com ???)

They should give you a valid key since you bought it legally or they should give another solution.
