So I tried installing my Renegade today and throughout the hole installation there was no text. I could click the buttons, but they did not say next. So once Renegade was done installing i opened it and went to main menu and there was no text there either. I could not do anything except ctrl+alt+delete to close it. I have tried installing numerous times and I get the same result.

Any help?

Edit: I used search lol. I don't seem to understand how to remove Renegade register.

A simple computer restart should solve this.

Yeah I actually just found that out right before you posted it is working fine now. That is weird how a restart solves the problem

I guess it is one of the great mysteries of ren.

It's not a big mystery or something...It's just a problem with Renegade rendering the fonts. A restart will refresh the font folder, which allows Renegade to render them correctly.
