i would of made it red and... black or maby green.

EDIT: here is a SS for you, b/c u forgot to add it to your post, only had the pic, and there are incredibly lazy people here -and stupid ones 2 -

I don't PERSONALLY like it but as a skin goes, it's pretty good.

You happen to know the name of the skin for the Wall? I'd make something cool for that too if I knew how

I suggest you not adding any bright colors, or making the colors look like the metal has a different color also try aplying a pattern, texture onto it

It's a good effort. I recommend you continue skinning, experimenting, or whatever I skin myself but I'm just a novice. It's fun to skin something and see it appear in Ren, though.

it's a bit better but you should make the color merge with the metal, i mean look at the bottom handle, it looks good you could make it black and white (hotkey shift+ctr+u) then color it

Newest one looks real nice, but I can't help thinking "what the...?" about the left side of the picture.

As for Pt's... it's these files in your data:

At the topic starter guy:

A good first try. Keep learning and skin some more, you'll find you naturally improve over time.

It's sort of like puberty, but instead of growing hair in strange places you find you have the ability to draw wicked awesome shit on guns and stuff.
