This santa has 1634 polygons, which is maybe much for a character for use in renegade.

I am thinking about another character to make, maybe some horror ones Anyone got great idea's for a new character?

Really?

Cos i thought there was a difference between expressing an opinion and forcing it on people.

I think the santa skin is a good skin but i really don't think it suits renegade tbh.

Good skin though.

It was more like an experiment santa is just to fat for renegade ..

And I agree with your opinion. I think the best we can do is ignore the german kid.

You're just angry because I say it looks shit. Nobody else does, because most they're likely afraid of saying what they really think. Just because they know their posts will be deleted.

Work on it, and it might just end up looking better. But what you currently have there looks plain shit.

That surprises you?

To criticize something properly you say what is bad about it.

Just saying it's shit is pointless and will be seen only as you trying to wind people up.

I'm curious....what are you so angry about?

You could tell next time what can be better instead of saying 'N fail' It actually discourages people and doesn't give them inspiration to make it better.

Also I just didn't like your comments in my Strip Club progress, calling me retarded and shit, so that's why I was angry when you posted something in here.

I have no clue what you wrote at first as it wasn't me who removed the posts. But if it's anything like you just posted here now, I can understand why it's gone.

Sure you can say you don't like it. You can say it looks very bad and explain why / what needs changing. But stop doing it in an offending way. And stop reacting like a 5 year old because we have cleared out these offensive posts.

If someone posts in mod forum, it's usually because they want help or opinions but then opinions that will help them make their work better. Not destructive "opinions" like yours.

Also it surprises me how lightly you use the term "nazi", knowing how serious Germans generally take the use of this word.

Santa looks pretty fine though the crotch area needs more polys to fill it up as well as the shoulders/legs. Don't make him too tall and make it more fat. And there's a lot of polys in the face too.

Something like this:

http://www.3dluvr.com/andyba/3D/images/2004/santa\_rigged12.jpg

Keep it up though; it's a good start.

So... anyone who doesn't have the same opinion as you doesn't have a "valid opinion?"

Just because you don't like something, doesn't mean everyone else who says they do is lying.

I might mistaken but I thought there already is such model from the darth vader in the starwars mod for renegade?

does anyone know where to find the starwars mod?

If I can simply convert them i won't make a total new one, would be kind of waste of time hehe.

If Darth Vader is made, he should be a highranked character (like Sydney PIC) otherwise there would be 5 or more on the field, that would be kinda odd
If there is one in the SW mod and you could covert it, that would be awesome
