You get ppl to strap themselves with proxie mines and C4 and get in a APC while have a Humvee follow u with reg engis and just rush the base, and while the devision of the apc mined up ppl do there thing the humvee just roars to the oblitek or whatever u wanna do and gets out and destroys the target..

C4 does next to nothing on the outside of a building from what I can tell so you would have to make it inside for it to work.

It would work better if you stood next to the MCT in the building.

er, i got an idea...u do much more damage attacking the MCT than the building itself!what happens, if u get in a tnak, and fire (at least at the AGT it IS possible) on the MCT? i mean, with a tank u can destroy a structure from outside! what happens if u do this on the MCT?

The tank makes mincemeat of it in seconds. If you go up to the door of the obelisk/agt then a couple of shots inside will demolish it. Ofcourse, it is easier to be a rocket soldier and run inside(sheilding yourself from enemy fire). Place timed c4 on the mct. Then just start firing away at it.
