the rifle would win cause ramjet has to get close to use his proton pills HAHAHA..Ok serious now.The normal rifle is less powerfull then the ramjet and you have to get a head shot to kill someone, but you can get off like two clips or more before anyone knows where you are.The Ramjet can kill someone with one shot anywhere, but 2 shots and your cover is blown.I killed alot of people and helped destroy a mobile artillary when I was well hidden and I only had to move when I ran out of ammo.

Sorry about the confusion, but I had to post fast cause I had to go away for a while .Now what i'm trying to say is which one do you prefer, I like the rifle a lot better and use it more often, in fact I think I have only used the ramjet in a couple of games, I save the money for something like a PIC.

Has anyone got anti-Sniper Strategies, except planting C4s on their back?

Flamethrower and a lot of strafing. It's really hard to get a headshot when there's a wall of flames in front of your target. Doesn't help very well against the $1000 characters though.

I like the ramjet better for a few reason, the main one is because I can kill buggies/humvee's and artillery/mrls really quickly.

Rocket soldier missiles. There is nothing more offputting when you're sniping than seeing the shell coming towards you and trying to hurry, take off the scope and run-by which time it has probably hit you.

I'm with Aki, find out where they are and sneak in with Mr. Shotty to make their day. People never see it coming because they're too busy zooming in on non-moving targets most of the time. Meanwhile, you get fatty points for killing a 500/1000 credit unit at no cost to yourself. In case you all didn't know, the shotgun man owns. He's the best free unit in the game when it comes to pure fragging power, and he's great for those small maps with no defenses like Walls or Volcano. I had 43 kills in one game the other night on Volcano because I kept running over, planting my C4, and killing anyone who came to defuse it. I also was the MVP, and that's all I did.

echo on the shotgun... sucks in the open but great if your enemy doesn't see you. Also the Chain black hand is way underestimated, rate of fire..aim for head on slow moving or stationary targets is lethal. Also cuts mammy like butter

I actually like the rifle ALOT better than the ramjet. Because it has a faster firing rate, and you don't see the bullet as it flies by (the ramjet bullet emits a fluorescent blue when you see it) And I don't know why, but I've had seriously bad luck with Havoc/Sakura, being unable to hit things and getting killed more easily and quickly than ne1 else. I have better luck ACTUALLY hitting people with the normal rifle and managed to achieve 11 kills and 1 death (my best so far) with Deadeye

Easy. rifle for "offence" sniping, where you have to stay hidden. Ramjet for "defensive" sniping, cause they take out art and mirt easily and you do not need to use stealth

Stealth Black Hands are great for that sort of thing. On Under especially. If Nod is Losing (and you're on Nod, duh ) Get a Black Hand and sneak out the tunnels, find a Sniper who isn't paying attention and take 'em down, retreat, disappear, repeat as necessary. Oh, and its also great for stealing people's tanks when they hop out to repair it themselves.

I do like the ramjet for it's advanced power against lightly armored vehicles, but the rifle does good enough damage at it's low cost. I like the ramjet because you get different skins for the character.

If you have enough money: buy Sakura and light tank. Drive to a position where a wall is too your back and jump out and snipe the sniper. He won't concentrate on the light tanks- due to the lack of damage a sniper has on light/med tanks. then jump back in tank. The farther away you snipe the less chance of getting killed.

you can take out snipers with ordinary soldiers. Just run behind them, you dont need to kill them. If you have shot a good sniper, then they wont return to the same spot for a while. There's no point going after crap snipers PErsionaly, though, I think its kinda hard to kill good snipers. There r some (like me) how snipe a couple from 1 spot, than move sumwhere else. Gets ur enemy infentry to whatch dif locals for snipers in 1 place, than u bust their ass from another. funny as hell ala they dont get smart and look in all ur hiding spots. but back on topic, my fav way of killing a sniper who does not c me??? pistol whip there ass. funny with a few shots in da head and a few secs la8er therer pac in there base hoping they still gots $$$ 4 sumtin better. works id say.....5 out 8 times.
