Just chill out, WestWood should be commended for their first FPS. The patch is in beta and will be released soon enough to address most of the major issues....

Flame them all you want but if it gets cancelled because of a whining community, then do not complain. Suck it up and let WW take it's time.[April 12, 2002: Message edited by: CanadianMonk3y]

You guys should be happy because WOL is letting us play for free. And makes the upgrade for free. Calm down... programming ain't easy... give them time. Some servers don't allow free multiplay with ladder points for free.

Nate, How is westwood doing us a favor by allowing "free" servers. They don't have servers (other than beta that is), the servers are all run by fans. I assure you my server is not free, I have a separate machine plus a very expensive high end DSL connection to pay for every month. I am happy that they chose to release the dedicated server to the public but that is much cheaper for them than to have to have their own server farm and bandwidth.

Maybe they will or are right now working hard on these situations, only time will tell, if you run a company and don't listen to customer feed back you are only harming your future, I can't imagine them being that stupid, mind you look at what happened to Kmart? I just bought JK2 and it is so user friendly and well polished it is hard to believe just how simple and user friendly it is, it's like made for a F in 3 year old, but all the options etc are right there and at your finger tips, what I suggest is that AE has a close look at it and try to follow suit, but guys, I really think they are going to be putting out a real nice patch with the air units, they figure why put out 3-4 patches, put it all in one, they are giving the demo out by the millions in this months gaming mag, so they definatly have no given up on Renegade, they are spending millions on marketing right now, not last week, now. So we'll just have to wait and see, what pees me off is in the past I would NEVER buy new titles, I'd wait 1 year to let them come down in price and bug to be gone and never had these problems, if you want to spend full price day 1, like the idiot I have become, you get this grief, maybe this will be a lesson to EA, their shareholders need to hear what's up and they'd be dumping their stock maybe? Again time will tell. What a waste to type this all out and have it erased, I think I made a fair assesment?

You guys that complain have no idea what programmers have to do all day just to even sometimes get one thing like air vehicles working. They have to think, write code, think, compile, think, debug, think, test, think, fix, rewrite if needed, almost fall asleep but gets coffe, repeat.... all day... sometimes. Think about the bugs they want to fix, that you want fixed. There evil bugs right? that means that they are difficult little evil s. They take long time of trial and error, logical thinking, and sleep depravation. WW staff works hard, why do you think they don't reply to all of this crap? They are too busy to reply about this and they don't care about what hateful things you have to say cuz their working hard for your winning little mouths.

Yes and no... It might be their job, but if their chief doesn't tell them to go work on the problems with Renegade they won't, even if the whole community asked for it.

They are getting paid for doing what they are told to do by their bosses. In a way, yes this is their job, but the company itself has NO obligation to create patches or make more stuff for the game. They could be spending this time to make other games which would make WW more $, but they are not so stop whining!
