Though the interview may not seem to contain a lot of new info, I think the very fact we get some feedback is indeed a positive note to remember for now .

That's a reflection of me, not the team. As some of you know, I own my own business now and things have taken off rather forcefully after the new year started. I've been insanely busy with that and other projects so 99% of the delay in answering those questions is on me. We are working on keeping better track of our progress (meaning, logging them in layman's terms instead of just commits of code so that I can explain them to you) so we can provide you with updates more regularly.
