i had one the first day to see the flying units in action(yes i admit it...unlike u n00bs)i took it down, because i needed more action, rather than flying around in a pixelized apache, so i started killing other pixelized apaches....

i think it is a load of c, beacause the game is based on violence and it gets a bit f boring if you dont kill ppl, i mean why would you wanna fly around all the time when you can shoot ppl

I played 'em to learn to fly. Everyone should be able to practice flying these new toys, right? Granted, we still shot each other down, we just didn't waste buildings so everyone could learn to dogfight. Boring maybe, but it helps.
