Hi people,

after the skydive of Westwood, I stopped playing Renegade online multiplayer.. But, it would be awesome to find a way to play it again. Sorry if this is just a noob post, but could someone please tell me how to? Do many people still play it?

Greetings,

Mordecai

Yo welcome back

To play online simply click Multiplayer Internet > Westwood Online

You don't need to register your account anymore, simply choose a name you want and type it in the Log in screen. Then when it connects and there are no servers showing then the name is probably already in use, so you will have to pick another name.

Just install renegade per this:

After that just join a server on WOL

Some servers are full almost all the time so players enough

EDIT:

I tried that, but the "login" button is grey and I has no use clicking on it O.o
