I haven't used my wol nick for like 2 weeks. I come back and try to use it. I log in, and it says Invalid password. How can this be? I know its the right password because I've used it plenty of times b4. I made sure caps locks wasn't on or anything that would make it not think its the password. Why would I get an invalid password when I have the right one and I've used this nick for like a year now. WTF!! HELP! plz!

Sometimes I get this when my brother and I log on from the same IP very close to each other. Just try again, or make sure your password isn't typo'd.

You can also reset your password, but I forget how.
