You should try to get it more to white it looks a bit greenish now

I can take a look at those meshes if needed.

There's my vote.
Like the others said, looks nice but the color needs work.

If that's the original color, then changing it means your model is better than the original then Really excellent work!

Is it possible to rig it to replace Mobius Suit Sydney?

Wow, you work fast.

Looks great by the way, except when the weapons on the back sometimes sink into the body .
Other than that, it is good. Thank you.

DYI?
Paint.net & Overlay your favorite color?
Awesome model, but it's not the kind for me.

It looks like something from HL2. ./ lol (Note: I've only had about 2-3 hours total of play-time on HL2)

It's based off of HL2, he made a combine elite and made it somewhat feminine.(And I thought it was impossible to do something like that)

I dislike it tbh. Is the wonky looking left arm the mesh issues you were referring to?

Nice.

idk if you released a similar version a while back, because I remember using that as my skin for a sakura for a good 2months. In the beginning it seamed fine, but I found it harder to headshot because it was too white. This one looks better.

In hl2 it has pretty bump maps and shaders to make it look better. Here, it doesn't.

No, there are some problems with the boots, they stick out mesh spikes sometimes. In the old version it did it all the time, but in this one it seems to not happen.

BTW: It is white! it looks gray because it's under the shadow of the HoN
