It's good but I can't help noticing you totally ripped off scrin's idea. Kudos to that! lol

I think its better then what scrin made, he added way to much shit to every weapon.

Keule did a good job because he only added a couple of things which all look good

I like it but i think the scope you put against your eye shouldn't be lighted though. The other side looks cool lighted ^^

I would probably only put a laserpointer directly under the barrel. But indeed as said before nice job!
