That is a ruling the mods/admins have made here... resulting in a 6 month ban for kill, then they said that was just an example... the next person to release this type of material will get a perma ban.

For reference:

Goztow wrote on Sun, 18 October 2009 05:28The renegade forums user known under the nickname "kill" has been banned for a period of 6 months for releasing a file that we have multiple times specified as being considered as a cheat. This means until the 18th of April 2010.

Each time he tries to bypass this ban, we will add an extra period of one month to his ban period.

I'm setting this as an example. We warned multiple times that we will not accept this release. If anyone else would like to do the same, they'll get a permanent ban as this warning should be very clear to everyone.

I also want to express my disappointment towards jnz who made this possible. It's not because you found a girlfriend and stopped caring about Renegade that you should spread source code without thinking. It shows a lack of respect towards a lot of people in this community.

It is considered an advantage because if you pay attention you know the second a building loses health, without having to constantly hit K, and when you hit K it covers your whole screen... could get you killed. Some other reasons also I am sure.

Admin policy is that any release cannot be allowed, because any release will be an alteration of Shaders.dll and/or Scripts.dll and therefore MUST be accompanied by source code (The "Stay free or die" clause of the GNU GPL, under which those DLLs are released), which can then be easily modified to NOT be as rule abiding as the original release.

(Also, Chew has a point)

Yes or No?

The only guy who will get the Source will be Reborn (he would get it from mrackz)

Are you publicly releasing it?

If you answer yes, "any release will be an alteration of Shaders.dll and/or Scripts.dll and therefore MUST be accompanied by source code (The "Stay free or die" clause of the GNU GPL, under which those DLLs are released)"...

Then it would prolly be removed because, "which can then be easily modified to NOT be as rule abiding as the original release"...

If you plan to just give it to reborn, then there is no need to ask. Just wouldn't say anything publicly, as your PM's will prolly get disabled (if they haven't already, lol).

I dont have the Source, mrackz did code it he planned to release the HUD without the Source because it shows how to create Counters (for Characters and more) Health of Enemy stuff and more. If you want it to be released with source then it should get approved by the Administration.

And my PM Box looks like this:

SeriousCat permanently banned for ban evading. Aka Mrackz, who was banned for trying and failing to DDOS renforums .

Somehow you made it extremely easy for us, Mrackz. Same ISP, same writing style, same advantage HUD, referring to Mrackz yourself, ... Now please don't tell me you're his brother / best friend / cousin / goldfish...

The release is not allowed because of the two reasons explained above:

1. it's a considerable advantage, even if you only have it enabled for your team.
2. you need to release the source code which would make it easy like hell to expand the modification to display the enemy team's building bars, providing you with the same advantage for enemy buildings.

While I appreciate the endorsement of trustworthiness, "releasing" the source code to me alone does not satisfy the license agreement, it has to be a public release. I'm not entirely sure why anyone would think that to be honest, I don't have anything to do with the license agreement other than being someone else who has to abide by it. I'm not the license creator, holder etc etc.

People need to realise that the building bars are a cheat, and quite often they are not limited to only the building bars, but also the harvester too (which does not show up pressing 'k'). Even if you do not consider the building bars a cheat, then please respect the fact that these HUD's can be so easily manipulated and exploited to create cheats with the source code (which as explained, has to be released with the .dll files).

People really need to be careful what they wish for.

Iterating through buildings is only a stones throw away from iterating through players and vehicles. Once you have got the players/vehicles gameobject you can tell how far away they are, there health, there ammo etc etc. Sound familiar to anyone? We're talking ESP from a well known renegade cheat, only 'better'.

Not only that, get there object, and you can then very very easily create an aimbot. YAY! Custom aim bots for everyone! Soon you would have the aim bots flooding in, and they would end up being allot more sophisticated than the released version.

You would have map overlays with the positions of every single player in the game on your screen, being able to anticipate every rush, or the best route to take...

You would have no end up cheats made by people looking to increase there e-penis size.

Please do not see the people distributing the HUD's as some type of super renegade hero to be admired. They are not oppressed freedom fighters or saviours to the game...

Wake up people, for fucks sake!

Also, I do not appreciate making a post in the spam forum. I feel all dirty now.

Harvester is in the list for me when I hold K. It even shows the health, and when it dies it disappears out of the list until it is back (and reappears in the list). Applies to the harvester of both teams. Always has been in the list for me

Reborn though I know your intentions are good I think you are getting a little to specific. As soon as you say it can be done then people start to figure out how it can be done. Just because some have figured it out does not mean you should advertise it. If you are going to tell everyone what can be done then you might as well just save everyone some time and tell them how.

But what do I know, I'm just a tool, right?

Perhaps you are correct, but what I said is common knowledge.

It annoys me that people like DieHardNL, who is supposed to be a 'good guy' thinks he is some kind of super bad-ass for spreading it around. When really, he's a being a fool.

But yeah, if someone feels it appropriate to remove my posts, I do not mind. I kinda think a little awareness might not hurt though, most people say it;s fine because they believe it's no big deal to see the buildings. If they know the true potential, then they would probably understand the position renegadeforums is taking.

Scrin was never banned permanently. He was banned for 1 month a while ago and didn't come back after that.

i have no problems with madracks or scrin in my opinoin they are very nice and cool people wants you get to know them.

ddosing is the worst and rudest thing what you can do in the internet. It's like in RL, you take a plane and fly into towers with it.

I think 'very nice' and 'cool' is something different.

Damn those fucking coders.

Sending any kind of code to reborn is completely stupid and never happens

I would act serious if i had his talent. Negative stuff are stonger than positive. So if you do a negative thing at the same time when your dont a positive thing, the person will remmeber the negative much better. So, i would not show off, dont hack, if i show my work, i would actualy release or just not tease people about.

Actualy what i think is that renegade orignal skins, models ect are fine the way they are, i just dont want my ren look so fancy like that.

Personally, I wouldn't mind having that HUD thing, would love to try it out and test it.

If I can't, and anyone else can't release any modified hud code. Why is it that anyone related to BHS can? :/

Not on these forums AFAIK.

The shaders.dll code contains code no diffrent to what I and madracks wrote. The 3.4.4 hud is actually (if used with hud.ini), a custom hud.

It has been released by mracks at another forum, I won't say which, but upon visiting that forum I noticed a few familiar names from here.

It's A Path Beyond Forums, right? Apparently even Renegade modifications aren't immune from his shitty bloom.

That is not where I saw it at, but the only reason I knew where it was os because I seen him in a server the other day and he was pm'ing me about it.

So Madrackz is just going around giving away his HUD? Why?

Oh, nikki. What's the reason anyone ever brings up HUDs on renforums?

I'm always surprised by the fact people think I care about what they do on other forums than this one...
