Real teamwork makes the game way too easy... Just call up one of your friends on the phone, and work with them. Me and Fatmodge were doing that all last night on the BJT server (My clan...), and we romped the other team ever time that we were together. City- He dropped me off on top of one of the buildings on the side of the base, and proceeded to plant his nuke on the side of the PP where I could snipe... PP down. He came back as an engine with the new cash also with a transport heli, and picked me up, and we proceeded to destroy the barracks... I lived and took the chopper back and got a Mendoza... Back to the enemy base... He c4ed the ref, and I defended him, then we nuked the AGT and ref... Whole game was around 10-15 minutes, and the defense was decent, the hotwires just had no chance to defuse the PP nuke...Under- He jacked a mammy, and I repaired him as a tech into the GDI base and we destroyed the AGT+barracks and power. Field- Dual hotwire rush to the Nod refinery, and got that. Then we did the same idea with me as a Mobius, and him as a hotwire. The oby shot him on the way to the ref, but I repaired him once we got inside. We then went out the back door and into the Oby, where I repaired him again... Oby gone. We went back to base to restock, and then went back in where we got the airstrip, and the rest of the team got the HON...Complex- GDI again... Defense at start... Me as a hotwire, him as a moby. Destroyed 3 stealth nuke rushes... Then we got an apc, and I placed a beacon behind their refinery, and then he held off the engines with the apc gun, and I repaired him. The HON went next, but then the sole surviving sniper on their team got us... By leaving our base, we lost our fact, so we both got beacons and patch. Neither of the beacons in the airstrip got defused.We did this for a couple of hours, and we did it more than this, but these are just examples of how well it works...[May 04, 2002: Message edited by: CanadianMonk3y]
