I've had it with this game.WW seems to have now placed a swear filter on every server that not only robs you of all your credits when you DARE to f*cking curse, it also prevents you from doing any damage for an undetermined amount of time, as well.Evidence (two different servers):On a game of Field I just played, I planted a nuke behind the GDI ref in _Field - like I've done tens of times before. I defend the nuke, it goes off. NOTHING. No death of the person trying to disarm it, nothing.And it did detonate - I saw the smoke plume from the NOD base.GDI's response: "LOLOLOLOLOLOL YOU PUT IT AGAINST THE WALL!" I've taken the ref and barracks down in field as Nod at LEAST 25 times. I KNOW where to place that beacon.-----On Islands - I infiltrate the base as a technician and plant my C4 on the MCT of the refinery. Both timed detonate - nothing. For sh1ts and grins I hit the remotes - nothing.So goodbye, Renegade. Been a "70\% rating" of fun - which is the verdict I gave this game in my recent review of it. I'm now thinking of putting it lower.EA: "End-users are complaining Renegade is laggy. Do something about it or have the whiny ones killed."WW: "WE KNOW, WE'LL JUST SLAP A FIREWALL ON WOL WHICH'LL CAUSE A SH1TLOAD OF UNFORESEEN LAG/LOST PACKETS AND RANDOM DISCONNECTS - AND RAISE AVERAGE LAG NUMBERS BY 30-50ms OR MORE!" Do you have any mods, if so deleted the ones you had just before you started getting this and try again. Somethings with some mods where you hit anything your money and score goes to zero, probably the cause of you not being able to damage anything as well.It happened to me once, and I hit Alt+shift+tab, deleted all my downloaded mods, then I closed the game, went back in and it was all fixed =]

Lol, no game company would put such a stupidly implemented swear filter in.

He's right. I played a game earlier today and it was awful. The game had 20 players in it and only 2 people were racking up points. 1st place had 3000s points and 2nd place had 2000s points. Everyone else had 0 points. The ping in the game was weird too. At one point, it would be running at 100s ping then the next minute, it's at 2000 pings. I could still run around and shoot but I could not inflict any damage on anything. All I can say is... it's a serious case of lagging.

I think he's right too because it happen to me too. I'm usually one of those guys that will say "hey watch your language kids could be playing" and here I am at times doing it myself ::bad roll, bad roll::I think it effected my ladder status as well. I was 28/28 games with over 10000 pionts rank 1300ish and after 28/29 my pionts dropped below 10000 rank 17000.How can this happen after 1 or 2 games?? Unless some server admin falsely reported I was cheating because I kicked his butt.I can't and would never cheat anyways.

this "filter" your talking about could be true. maybe some jacka$$ puritan thought He could stop swearing and put it on his server- But WW would never do such a thing because they would lose buisness and why isn't this filter in any other games WW makes? renegade's designers had major modding in mind thats what it could be.

Before you go playing on mp first you should:1:Beat the skirmish game atleast 12 times and learn the controls and vice commands.2:Be nice to other people don't get into some one's tank unless he lets espically if he is repairing it or hes the host and you tick him off.3:Go to forums and read up on Tactics and Strategies,(if there are any).4:Atleast play throught the 5th mission in sp so you get better.5 on't go on the web and flame people who are talking about something you don't know about.^th and final:Always and I mean always listen to the host's rules,notices,andclan tryouts,cause if you get on a game and i'm the host and treat me like a ragmop I will beat you down then ban you from my game before your last building goes.I hope this helps the bad (mean) noob's.

I wasn't saying "I think he's right" because I agreed with the fact that they had a swear filter. I was agreeing with the other guy who was saying that it was just a server problem or lagging problem. That game where I had that problem... only one person was swearing and that was the 2nd place dude. Everyone else didn't, yet they got the problem. It had to be the host server or the server WOL provided.

No they don't. One only really needs to beat the practise once with each side and get to mission 3. And of course listening to people and not flaming them is always good.

cheezy: this was on four (up from two now) different servers. Not just one isolated incident. I got BANNED from one server for saying the admin was messing with me just to get points - which I thought was the case. [May 05, 2002: Message edited by: destruyax]

How about just paying attention to what ppl type in the game?1. I type "Engineers only in my Buggy" (for early attack). 3 soldiers come running for my buggy.2. Enemy Beacon placed and I find where and type what building for assistance. Noone pays attention.3. I type what base building is in dire need of repair, noone pays attention.etc., etc., etc.

The thing I hate about n00bs most is when you are placing prox mines...The map was the one from mp and noone bothered to place mines so I started I told EVERYONE on my team that I was placing them so I did..... (a few min later) I was standing in the tunnel after dropping my last mine, I then told everyone that I had dropped 23 mines and then I went back to base and went in the barracks as I came out I look at the AGT to discover a Hot wire dropping mines inside so being very after saying that I was dropping mines I went to see how many they had dropped...

1...2...3.....8...9.....15.....20...21 they had dropped 21 mines at the AGT and I was very angry and I started shouting at the other player (calling him a n00b etc)5 min later someone got in our base with a becon and the n00b tryed to ORDER me to disarm it (so I thought I would teach him a leason) I sent back a message saying "I would but if you didnt throw all them mines on the floor they would have never got in the base" and they said NOW so i said "disarm you own *ing becon"-----In the next level I started by saying that I and only I will lay mines because the rest of you dont have a *ing clue what you are doing.... sure enough the I cought the SAME N00B putting mines in our air strip what that I said to him "either learn how to play or dont play" with that I quit the game and joined another one and had a few good games I just wish n00bs would learn to play of GIVE UP and get rid of the game

Newbs should have a certain server for just them. Hell they mostly dont even know how to use the PT and how to destroy the Building. Sometimes they think it is easier to destroy or repair a building from outside and not the MCT!! It *ing *es me off.

Lately when last joiners were really really lame...and the next map starts, I hit Tab key twice to see what rank ppl I have on my team.Then I quit before 2 minutes is up if I see the team majority rank is 14,000 or something.

These rules are the stupidest ones I have ever seen. Learn the radio commands? I have been playing since the first day of release, and I NEVER use the radio commands. the radio commands for Renegade are useless. WW should have never implemented them. If they wanted a successful voice communication system, they should have made it like RTCW's.

Then try going to your base with a damaged tank and saying "I need repairs!". See the difference?If you honestly don't see a difference then you are strange, 'cause I can.
