I was on my bro's laptop playing tiberium wars then the BSoD comes but the funny thing is it happend after tib wars crashed

oh btw for the spec

processors: intel core 2 duo cpu p7450 @2.39Ghz 2.39GHz
RAM 3.00GB

OS vista home premium
bit version 32 bit

Thanks for your specs, but that's not quite enough. What's the stop error? It'll look like 0x0000006 or something and sometimes will give you a problem file, like cmudax.dll.

And if it was the latter (As the former makes little to no sense) can you not guess what the issue was?

i would of guess how it caused it caused it because i was playing tiberium wars for like 4 hours and the game crashed saying

' FATAL EXCPETION ' 0x0000000000064
0x000000000453
0x000000454(AT_BASE)
due to the severity of the game it will close

thats the game error

the BSoD it said something about OUT_OF_MEMORY at kernal

thats all i can remember

Probably a memory leak in TibWars that just caused your system to be out of RAM.

Save and quit everynow and again. (Also, my brother once wrote an RTS in Qbasic, a language, the compiler for which gave the subroutines an inherent memory leak, so to counter, he added a check for remaining memory and saved the game and crashed it on purpose when the RAM was running out, rofl)

"me"
Just save and quit [the game] every now and again.

Need anything else?
