Zippy is really good. Almost to good. These are the kind of players that get me upset. Lone elites.

Not sure who you mean, but if you mean who I think you mean, I'd recommend his flying server:
-> not too laggy -> always free space -> flying maps only (bad point if you like other maps also)

#4 NEVER attack the enemy with a group of n00bs because when there nice pretty new tank gets a scratch they run all the way back to base to fix it.EXAMPLE6 of us went on a flame rush and as well went in their base 4 other tanks pulled out (suffering minor dammage) because they didnt want to lose their tank, I was not happy with this because it ment I wasted my $800 for nothing...How I got REVENGE As I got back to base one of the n00bs had just bought him self another flame tank and got out to use the PT so I quickly jacked his tank and when he came back he told be to get out of the tank so I said that when he pulled out of the rush that ment that I lost my flame tank so im taking your as repayment (or something along those words) he told the host (who was accually the other person to stick in the rush with me) to boot me so the host just LOLed at him.err thats kind-a long sorry.

I've taken 2 tanks I was repairing because the driver got out and just ran away... I say in team chat.. who ever's tank I just saved it's all yours come and get it.. but nobody responds..I can't figgure out why someone would do that.

Endlessly I find that to be true in a lot of servers. The best remedy is to just ignore the mouthy little snots...BTW I had one last night that kept hitting his voice command "get in the vehicle". I watched this clown put some players in his vehicle and attempt a rush and it failed miserably over and over again.

I usually don't post flaming n00b posts, but this one needs to be heard (and that I need to get my anger out, anyway)I was playing on this Westwood server with some guys called Mmartinz and JakeEnvy. The first guy joined in the middle of a game on Field, and he started saying how he was going to kick arse next game (cause his team was losing). Well, next game, his team did by using a diversionary APC to rush the Plant, while a buggy blew our Weap Factory. He comments on how our team sucks, but i'm nice enough to compliment him on his strategic skills. Well, soon enough, he keeps insulting everyone and I so that we start getting into an argument.Next match, we were at Under and on the same team . He and some guys took a few MRLS and rushed the Strip, nearly blowing it, and I came with a Med. Well, he went out to repair and got his MRLS stolen by a Stealth Hand, which I had to destroy. When I gave him some friendly advice on never repairing in the field, he starts blowing a fuse at me and tells me to shut up. At that point, i'm calling him a n00b cause he's obsessed about winning, a braggart, and doesn't listen to advice. Someone on our team gets a lucky APC rush and destroys the obelisk, and I complimented on how the Ion in our base served as a distraciton so the APC (which they thought was a distraction) could get in. Well, JakeEnvy butts in and tells me to shut up and that i'm a moron (because I complimented him?). And at the same time, Mmartinz is insulting the other team again. So, after we won, I left the game and posted this 10 minutes later to cool my anger But now that i'm done, I feel fine
