Hmm...

I want to say the ducks are the odd ones out, as the others all contain cats (And in the case of the top one, a dog, which is, like the cat, a common domestic pet, unlike ducks)

This answer, having a lot of logic behind it, is therefore, obviously, wrong.

Easy, the black ducks one, because you're implying that there is potential for something of darker coloring to be inappropriate, therefore it IS inappropriate.

you RACIST.

. i realizy i again didnt put them into a spoiler, but it was a necessity to not ruin what little surprise was left for anyone clicking this topic.

.. i made the "odd ones out"-sentence because i didnt want to just post the pictures uncommented. however, since you already responded, you could argue that either the ducks are odd, or the last cat for being the only lonely, sociopathic being in those pictures.

... post more cuties immediately, im all out.

.... not making these dots for any particular reason.
