This is probaly allready known but I'll post it anyway.If you are on a level (with high places that you will die if you fall off) you will probally get a sniper or 2 that will use these places to their advantage (I find that most sniper will go right to the edge of there space) simply get right behind them and walk in to them and you should be able to push them of the edge,PS if the fall is too little have one of you teammates ready with a tank to finish the job for you

LOL! I never thought about pushing them, theres really no fun in that, but it does prevent them from getting a lucky shot off and you know that ramjet rifles are deadly up close.....

Cool, I must try to push someone, never knew about that...I prefer to put some timed C4 on them. I once did that and got three kills after the guy went into the AGT to repair.

I think that is a great idea! HTe c4 idea wouldn't be too good becuse they hear the little sound of a C4 then they might have a shot at you. Then again you might miss.
