St0rm is trying to say he was tested and was found clear of hacks.

So tell me why i have a video of him doing imposable things?

His name is TheEyePlayer.

How do you effectively test for skins?

You would have to get a SS with a private message in it at the very instant you want to see what he sees... if they fail to get the message in there it could be because they alt tabbed out to remove advantage skins/models. I would assume it would include a model replacement that has emitters like the glowing C4.

You can't remove it while your in game it still shows up, only other way he could do that is by using *cheat name removed*witch he would be able to turn off the skin's aimbot etc.

OK this dude joined st0rm witch they are talking about banning him, he joins play's 3 games and sucks always at the bottom of the list of players he leaves the 4 and joins back in on the 5 and is the top ranking player just by sniping? looks to me he went and turnec them on.

St0rm say's he is clear but i have a video of him doing it he says that he is using a glitch that you can tell where the sbh's are at all times, like u highlight harv then move ur mouse around till it stops highlighting the harv and there is your sbh witch i think is stupid and the video looks like the guy just knew where he was because he was talking to him.

And most people that kill sbhs like that and are able to get hs's on sbh's without knowing where they are, there is 2 things *cheat name removed* or a no stealth skin, makes it so the sbh never goes stealth in there screen, just like in mod forums how they got the snipers to look like a sbh not stealthed.

The target box glitch could be it if he had someone standing still for him I guess, it obviously is not the harv he is using in the tunnels... personally I think anyone who abuses this glitch should get a 24 hour kick/ban... and if they are doing it this much it should proly be longer. I don't think there is anyone that can justify this glitch abuse.

Edit: Also st0rm's mods suck... so I wouldn't bother messing with them.

Quote:The first two deaths, as Tupakk said, could have been found by using the reticle glitch.

The kill, however, at :40 is odd. He hugs and kills. I understand it could be possible, because he was visible to distrbd, which means he could have found him. Although, to hit him first try by hugging, and a second to the head? I'm sorry. I do not believe it.

If this could be moved to staff forum's that'd be great.

i somewhat agree with him.

This dude got 23+ kills on me using he so called glitch..

two problems, you just stood there when he shot at you, so you made an easy target of yourself as he didnt always hs you. number 2 if he's running highest quality (scripts too? idont know) you can see foot steps made by sbh soo.... makes hunting sbh in the tunnels easy as pie

I have played with this guy many times, and I've had my thoughts too. He seems to be the "BEST" sniper in whole Renegade. And for some reason nobody wants to check him for cheats/hacks because they all say "He's been playing here for a long time, and he's clean."

On St0rm I used to be rather good friends with some moderators until I got banned thanks to my little brother. But besides that, I know that there are multiple moderators there who think exactly the same as we do. TheEyePlayer is hacking for sure, but for some reason, nobody has been able to catch him, cause all of his screenshots seem normal.

Either way glitch, cheat, advantage skin/model... whatever he is doing to find SBH it is obviously BS and some form of action should be taken accordingly.

As far as I know, the SBH only kick up snow... I have never personally seen or heard of them kicking up dirt in the field tunnels. If they did I would imagine you would have to look pretty closely to keep finding them like this.

True. SBH's don't even kick up water, so it would be very strange if they did kick up dirt.

Also, from many years of experience in this game and lots of sniping in the Field tunnels, I have never been able to spot a completely stealthed SBH from that range. Not even when walking (through the dirt).

I wasn't being sarcastic...as killgeak said...he isn't that good at all...anyone can shoot sbhs using that little glitch.

they do kick up dirt but it is really hard to see this when i was recording him i saw a spy with a noobjet come up beside me before i saw him i saw the dirt coming up, but i did not see it that far away i saw the dirt and not even a sec l8r saw the sbh, it also depends on the way he or she is moving.

? is it with 3.4.4 that they show foot steps in water? i know for a fact i see foot prints from any character in dirt, water, snow, etc. you just need to know what you're looking for.

why take it off? its simple physics, if you step in water, you displace it, if you walk in dirt, you leave prints...
