And among you, who would be interested in achievement farming for the new unlocks, most of the new achievements are extremely easy to get if you just have one co-operative player helping, the more the merrier though. Post your steamids.

TF2 is the only game easier than Renegade. The sniping is almost identical minus the lag. It gets boring after a couple days.

how is sniping identical? You're in first person, there is no hope of hitting someone far away unless you zoom in and you're actually unable to get a headshot unless you're zoomed in. Have you even played tf2 past a free weekend?

TF2 replaced Renegade as my favourite game.

If I had a better comp I'd play alot more. Sadly the only comp in my house that can play it kinda died, this one can't, really.

But the time I did play it, I loved it. I'd help you out (and myself along the way), but yeah, sorry.

Still, TF2 is awesome. It's one of the few online FPS's that actually has held my interest for more than a day. The other being Renegade (and its mods).

I was about to create a Renegade community group because of this thread, but one already exists: <http://steamcommunity.com/groups/CnCRC>

Dancing and corner hugging in the tunnels with a havoc wasn't sniping. If you actually sniped in 3rd person in Renegade you're a moron, but it seems pretty clear from your post that you just jumped around in tunnels with a havoc killing free infantry, and thought you were awesome.

lol, yep that's me! I don't even snipe in renegade but nice job getting angry . It's become clear that due to your lack of understanding of the most basic concepts in tf2 that you've never actually played it, but just watched a couple of videos on youtube.

Sniping in TF2 is nothing like Renegade's sniping. For one, TF2 is first person. Two, there's more camping and less lagging around corners killing people instantly without them being able to even see you.

Did one of the scripts remove 1st person from Renegade, or did you people just forget about it?

You don't snipe in 3rd person in Renegade unless you're an idiot.

Sniping in Renegade is something only a handful of people ever did properly, and were good at it at the same time. I'm talking about people that refused to use ramjets, changed positions frequently, and preferred playing outside of the tunnels. Most people just used sniper rifles like they were shotguns, that's not sniping.

I usually snipe like this though I do use third person when walking to my destination.

I'm a little bit of both I was actually a damn good sniper awhile back, kinda lost that now, though. I do take up the role whenever some hotwires/technicians need their heads popped, though.
